THE CHOLERA
DEPRIVED OF ITS HORRORS BY PURIFYING
AND ENRICHING THE BLOOD.
NOW IS THE TIME
TO USE A PREVENTIVE.
There is none equal to
HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID
EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA.
THE CHOLERA

Is defective vitalization of the blood, and when the blood loses its LIFE-GIVING POWER,
It causes relaxation of the contractile powers of the blood vessels of the body, and the intestines open their myriad blood vessels, and all the albuminous or flesh-making material passes off from the bowels.
PURE AND HEALTHY BLOOD RESISTS DISEASE.
And while there may be no occasion for alarm those of impure blood are most liable to suffer.

NOT A FEW of the worst disorders that affect mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect Helmbold's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and renovates the blood, instils the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood.

Scrofulous, mercurial and syphilitic diseases destroy whatever part they may attack. THOUSANDS DIE ANNUALLY from protracted diseases of this class, and from the abuse of mercury. Visit any hospital, asylum or prison, and satisfy yourself of the truthfulness of the assertion. The system best resists the inroads of these diseases by a judicious combination of Tonics.
HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
FLUID EXTRACT
SARSAPARILLA
Is a Tonic of the greatest value—arresting the most inveterate diseases after the glands are destroyed and the bones already affected. This is the testimony of thousands who have used and prescribed it for the last 16 years.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the extract of Sarsaparilla in venereal affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of Syphilis, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states, "That no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is in the strictest sense a tonic, with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious."

TWO TABLESPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.
The decoction is exceedingly troublesome, as it is necessary to prepare it fresh every day, and the syrup is still more objectionable, as it is weaker than the decoction; for a fluid saturated with sugar is susceptible of holding in solution much less extractive matter than water alone, and the syrup is otherwise objectionable, for the patient is frequently nauseated, and the stomach surfeited by the large proportion of sugar taken with each dose of Sarsaparilla, and which is of no use whatever, except to keep the decoction from spoiling. Here the advantages and superiority of the Fluid Extract in a comparative view are strikingly manifest.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, March 20.

PROTECTION OF UNITED STATES OFFICERS.

The House to-day, after an animated debate, passed the bill to amend the Habeas Corpus Act of last year, so as to protect United States officers for acts done under color of military authority, from prosecution and punishment in State Courts. Earnest speeches were made in its favor by Messrs. GARFIELD of Ohio, and SMITH and McKEE of Kentucky, and against it by Messrs. ROSS of Illinois and HARDING of Kentucky. The vote on its passage was 112 yeas to 31 nays; the latter all Democrats but Mr. HALE, of New-York.

DISTRIBUTION OF TROOPS.

The Secretary of War has communicated a document to the House of Representatives in reply to a resolution, showing among other things that on the 9th of January, of the troops in service, 10,890 were employed in Missouri; 4,641 in Virginia; 3,106 in North Carolina; 4,768 in South Carolina; 1063 in Georgia; 10,193 in Mississippi; 10,629 in Alabama; 10,684 in Tennessee; 8,567 in Arkansas; 101,153 in Louisiana, and 29,248 in Texas. Orders have been issued for the further reduction of 18,654 whites and 23,090 colored, or in all 41,744 men. The troops comprising the regular army number 26,525. The regiments, except the Seventeenth Infantry, have been assigned to military departments, and as fast as recruits are made the unorganized companies are formed and sent en route for the departments where their regiments are serving. Recruits are also being sent to fill up other companies already organized. About 3,000 recruits per month are now being enlisted. The Seventeenth Regiment is reorganizing at Hart's Island, New-York, where it composes temporarily the garrison for a depot, at which volunteers are paid and discharged. The number of generals, staff and retired officers of the regular army is 569, and of generals and staff officers of the volunteer service, 1,018. Twenty-one major-generals and one hundred and one brigadier-generals, ordered to be mustered out by general orders, are not included. The exhibit shows that three regular officers and five hundred and ninety-nine volunteer officers are receiving pay, but are unemployed. The latter consist mostly of those ordered to their residences for muster-out. It further appears from the document that five regular officers and six hundred and fifty-two volunteer officers are without commands. Of these six hundred and twenty-one belonging to the Veteran Reserve Corps, are retained, under resolution of Congress, to await further action in their cases. The officers reported in this list, though without a command of soldiers corresponding to their rank, are either employed on duties legitimate to their commissions or are suffering from severe wounds received in battle and not yet healed—with the exception of two who are on leave. The recapitulation shows the troops in the volunteer service: White, 2,264 officers and 55,326 men; colored, 2,393 officers and 63,373 men. In the regular service, 1,124 officers and 25,463 men; general staff and retired officers of regular army, 621; general and staff officers in volunteer service, 1,018; First Battalion Veteran Reserve Corps, not attached to companies, 609; Signal Corps, 16 officers and 58 men. Deducting the officers of the regular army in the volunteer service there are 7,943 officers, forming, with the men, a grand total in the Army of the United States of 152,611. The estimate of the annual expense of the army as now organized and distributed is $120,302,878. Deduct estimate for troops ordered to be mustered out, $32,940,118, and this leaves an aggregate of $87,362,759.

PETROLEUM.

Several Collectors of Customs have sent communications to the Secretary of the Treasury, asking instructions in regard to the transportation of crude and refined petroleum. The law of Aug. 30, 1852, provides that a special license shall be taken out by steamboats for carrying gunpowder, camphene, &c., and "other explosive burning fluids;" that metallic chests shall be provided for stowing such articles away, and that a penalty of $100 fine shall be imposed for each violation of this law. The Collectors ask if the penalties of the law shall be enforced against steamboats for transporting crude and refined petroleum without special license; in other words, does petroleum come under the class of "other explosive burning fluids?" The Secretary replies that the Department has not decided that crude and refined petroleum are of that character, and until otherwise ordered, these commodities can be carried as freight without special license, proper care being observed in its stowage with reference to safety from hazard of fire. Mr. McCULLOCH has referred the question of the explosive quality of petroleum to a special board of chemists and experts, with directions to report at the earliest moment. The decision of this board will guide the Secretary in making rules thereafter as to the transportation of petroleum.

AID FOR FREEDMEN.

An animated discussion sprang up in the Senate this afternoon upon a joint resolution reported by Senator MORRILL, from the Committee on the District of Columbia. The resolution as adopted appropriates $25,000 for the relief of destitute people in the District. As originally introduced it read "destitute colored people," but upon the suggestion of Mr. WILLEY and others, who thought the phraseology too highly colored, the obnoxious word was stricken out. The Senators became facecious over the various amendments offered. Mr. DAVIS wanted an amendment directing the Superintendent of the Freedmen's Bureau to find employment for the able-bodied colored men. Mr. KIRKWOOD insisted on striking out the word "colored," and Mr. NESMITH wanted members of Congress included, so that it would read, "that the Superintendent find employment for the able-bodied men of the District, including members of Congress." The usually grave Senators laughed heartily at these funny propositions. Senator SPRAGUE smiled. The jocular amendments were lost, of course.

THE NAVY APPROPRIATIONS.

The House Navy Appropriation Bill came up for consideration and was passed by the Senate with a few amendments, generally of minor importance. One amendment appropriates $7,000 for erecting a levee and wall in front of the Government property at the mouth of the Ohio River near Cairo, and another offered by Mr. SPRAGUE directs that all carpets purchased by authority of the bill be of domestic manufacture. This is a standing amendment of the Rhode Island Senator, which he gave notice he will insist on in every measure adopted, if it be pertinent. Mr. ANTHONY made a struggle for the appointment of a board to be composed of five persons, Admiral PORTER at the head, who should examine the several sites suggested for a Naval Academy, including Annapolis. The vote of the Senate was decided, and intended to be conclusive of this matter. The Senate was of the opinion that Annapolis is central, healthy and capacious for the purpose, and inasmuch as some $900,000 have been expended upon the Government buildings already there, the Academy must be continued in Annapolis. So the amendment was rejected.

PETITION FOR REPAYMENT OF LOSSES BY REBEL ARMIES.

Some time ago a citizen of West Virginia petitioned the Senate to indemnify him for the loss of his printing office at Ravenswood, valued at $3,000, destroyed by the rebels in 1862. It appeared from the report that the petitioner did his duty manfully, and assisted in the defence of his country, but in this the committee say he did no more than his duty as a citizen, and a patriot; that the Government has never recognised a liability for claims of this character, or considered a citizen entitled to reward for doing a service which his duty and loyalty compelled him to perform. His liabilities and risks were the same that pertain to every one who loves his country and is loyal to her. His place and situation demanded a sacrifice, and he performed the duty and met his losses at the hands of a lawless horde of rebels. The committee add: "We commend his fidelity, but can never recognize the liability of Government for his losses."

THE COURT OF CLAIMS.

The President has approved the act in relation to the Court of Claims. It repeals the fourteenth section of the act establishing that tribunal, which section provided that no money shall be paid out of the Treasury for any claim passed upon by the Court till after an appropriation therefor shall be estimated by the Secretary of the Treasury. The present law allows either party to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States from any final judgment or decree which may hereafter be rendered in any case wherein the amount in controversy exceeds $3,000. The amended act allows an appeal at any time within ninety days, excepting in such cases where the amounts found due by the Court have been paid at the Treasury.

CIRCULAR TO ASSESSORS OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has issued a circular, calling the attention of assessors, assistant assessors, and all other Internal Revenue officers, to the act recently passed declaring the meaning of certain parts of the Internal Revenue Act. The third section requires all persons making returns to declare in such returns whether the rates and amounts therein contained are stated according to their values in legal-tender currency. If the rates and amounts are stated in coined money, the Assessor receiving the returns must reduce them to their equivalents in currency at the time when and the place where the returns are receivable.

NAVY-YARD AT NEW-LONDON.

Representative BRANDEGEE last night made an argument before the Committee on Naval Affairs in favor of the establishment of a Navy-yard at New-London, when Representative KELLEY replied in favor of League Island. The Committee will take a vote on the subject on Friday. The friends of League Island say that the selection of this site does not increase the number of Navy-yards, as that at Philadelphia will ultimately be removed to it; while the establishment of one at New-London would have the effect of lessening the business at both the New-York and Boston yards.

THE CONTEST FOR NAVY-YARDS.

Mr. BRANDEGEE made his argument before the Naval Committee last evening against League Island and in favor of New-London. He set forth several advantages of the latter place not heretofore fully understood, and showed how, at a very small expense, an excellent fresh water basin could be secured for the preservation of the iron-clads, or they can be run into docks and the water drawn from them, which would be in accordance with the plan of Admiral STRINGHAM, who reported in favor of New-London in 1862.

THE STORY ABOUT THE ADMINISTRATION SUPPORTING MR. ENGLISH IN CONNECTICUT.

There is considerable comment here to-night among Connecticut Republicans over the apostacy of the Hartford Postmaster, Mr. CLEAVELAND, who is said to have declared for ENGLISH, Democratic candidate for Governor. Secretary WELLES said in conversation to-day that he heartily desired the election of Gen. HAWLEY, and that he had every reason to believe that the President and all the members of his Cabinet desired the same thing.

THE ARMY REORGANIZATION.

It is understood that the Military Committee of the House will report Mr. SCHENCK'S bill as a substitute for that which has passed the Senate. There are a number of interests which it is desired to conciliate in this army bill, which may be well enough if it is not done at the expense of the interests of the service. The bill which was reported to and which passed the Senate, is known to reflect very nearly the views of Gen. GRANT and his able subordinates, who were in consultation on this measure some weeks since.

FENIANISM.

The Government does not seem to be apprehensive that the Fenians will attempt an invasion of the British Provinces, nor is the British Minister seriously alarmed on the subject. Nothing is known how to justify the belief that the Fenians have as yet gone beyond holding meetings and making collections of money in aid of their cause. Certainly, nothing has been done of a belligerent character to authorize direct Government interference.

THE MONADNOCK.

Advices have been received that the monitor Monadnock was at Montevideo on the 25th of January, bound for Valparaiso, which she is supposed to have reached about the last of February. This vessel, the letter says, has everywhere excited the wonder and admiration of all beholders, and given them a better idea of American skill than anything they had previously known.

APPROPRIATION BILLS PASSED.

The House to-day made quick work of three appropriation bills, the Civil, Diplomatic and Consular, and Post-office, finishing and passing them all. This clears up the work of the Appropriation Committee, which has been one of the most practical and expeditious in the House. Usually these bills are the last to be acted on.

COLORADO.

A strong move is made by the Colorado Representatives to get the Senate to revise its action in rejecting that Territory's claim to admission as a State. The indications are that the Senate will admit the young aspirant for State honors and responsibilities.

SOLICITORS.

Hon. WM. JOHNSON, of Ohio; B. C. CHETWOOD, of New-Jersey, and A. S. COX, of Washington, D. C., were to-day admitted as Solicitors in the United States Court of Claims.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

The President to-day took up the Civil Rights Bill for consideration. It is not likely that he will make known his action on the bill until Thursday or Friday.

ASKING FOR MORE PAY.

JOHN P. HALE, United States Minister at Madrid, has written to prominent members of Congress urging an increase of his salary, which is now $12,000 in gold.

THE NEW-JERSEY CONTESTED SEAT.

The Senate will probably take up the New-Jersey Senatorial contested election to-morrow.

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

SENATE....Tuesday, March 20.

THE MILITARY ACADEMY.

Mr. FESSENDEN reported, from the Committee on Finance, the bill making appropriations for the support of the Military Academy, with amendments which strike out the proviso prohibiting the payment of money in violation of the Oath of Office Act of 1862, and to cadets appointed since January last from States lately in rebellion. The appropriation for the library is increased from $1,000 to $2,000; and that for repairs of officers' quarters from $1,500 to $10,000. It also adds appropriations of $6,000 for reflooring the buildings, $3,000 for quarters for subaltern officers, and $2,000 for fuel for warming the mess-hall and the shoemakers' and tailors' shops.

THE TAX ON CIGARS.

Mr. HOWE presented the joint resolutions of the Wisconsin Legislature, asking for a modification of the tax on cigars, which was referred to the Committee on the District of Columbia.

THE GEORGETOWN HARBOR.

Mr. MORRILL presented the memorial of the Mayor and Council of the City of Georgetown, asking Congress to take action in removing the obstructions from the harbor of Georgetown. Referred to the Committee on the District of Columbia.

RELIEF OF THE COLORED PEOPLE IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Mr. MORRILL introduced a joint resolution from the Committee on the District of Columbia, appropriating $25,000 for the relief of destitute colored people of the District, and asked for its immediate consideration.

Mr. SAULSBURY moved to amend by making the expenditure applicable to the cases of destitute white people.

The Chair said the resolution was not yet open to amendment. The question was upon its immediate consideration.

Mr. SAULSBURY objected to its immediate consideration, but subsequently withdrew his objection.

Mr. MORRILL said there was an absolute necessity for this appropriation. It was dictated by considerations of public health and safety, as well as by feelings of charity. There were fifteen hundred destitute colored people in this city, and their condition was deplorable. He caused to be read a communication from the Chief of Police of the city detailing the condition of the colored population in certain districts, and expressing fear that, unless something was done soon for their relief, disease and pestilence would be generated among the unfortunate blacks.

Mr. SAULSBURY offered an amendment appropriating $25,000 for distribution among the destitute white people of the district.

Mr. MORRILL said that Mr. SAULSBURY was paying a very poor compliment to the white people of the District.

Mr. SAULSBURY said there were hundreds and thousands of white people in this District who do not know what it is to have meat upon their tables, and who, when they have provided themselves with one meal, do not know where another will come from. He (SAULSBURY) had done nothing to cause this influx of negro population in this District. It was told us here when we were about to abolish Slavery in the District, that the District would be a paradise for free negroes. Now, Sir, that paradise has just been described to us by the Senator from Maine, (MORRILL.) Let not your charity be confined to the negro population of this District, if you have evidence that there are people of your own race equally destitute.

Mr. WILLEY suggested to Mr. SAULSBURY to withdraw his amendment, and substitute for it an amendment striking out the word "colored," so as to have the money appropriated for colored and white destitute people alike.

Mr. SAULSBURY refused to withdraw his amendment.

The Senate rejected the amendment.

The vote on its adoption was yeas 3; nays, 34. Yeas—Messrs. DAVIS, RIDDLE and SAULSBURY.

Mr. WILLEY then moved the amendment he had suggested to Mr. SAULSBURY to strike out the word "colored."

This amendment was also rejected.

Mr. DAVIS moved as an amendment an additional section authorizing the corporate authorities of this District to find employment for all able-bodied black people now unemployed in the District, the employment to be obtained in the District or elsewhere, and appropriating $5,000 for carrying this provision into effect.

Mr. KIRKWOOD moved to strike out the word "black." He did not see why white people should not work as well as white black people. [Laughter.]

Mr. DAVIS asked for the yeas and nays on the adoption of Mr. KIRKWOOD'S amendment.

The yeas and nays were not ordered. The amendment was adopted.

Mr. NESMITH moved an amendment so as to exclude members of Congress from those for whom the city authorities shall find employment.

The amendment was not adopted.

The amendment of Mr. DAVIS was then rejected.

Mr. SAULSBURY moved to strike out of the original resolution the provision that the money shall be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of the Freedmen's Bureau, and insert that it shall be expended under the direction of the Mayor of Washington.

The motion was rejected.

The resolution, as reported from the Committee was then adopted by yeas 33; nays 5.

THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

Mr. FESSENDEN called up the Naval Appropriation Bill, which, a few days since was read at length and passed over.

Mr. ANTHONY offered an amendment directing the Secretary of the Navy to appoint a board of naval officers, of whom the present and late Superintendent shall be two, to examine and report a suitable place for a Naval Academy, and that until their report is made none of the appropriations for the improvement of the Academy shall be expended.

The amendment was disagreed to by yeas 5; nays 32. Messrs. ANTHONY, HOWE, SHERMAN, SPRAGUE and SUMNER voted in the affirmative.

Mr. GRIMES offered an amendment appropriating $7,000 for the construction of a levee at the Naval depot at Mound City, Ill.

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. GRIMES offered an amendment, as an additional section, abolishing the office of Assistant in the Bureau of Ordnance.

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. GRIMES offered an amendment appropriating $1,000 to pay mileage for the Board of Visitors to the Academy. Adopted.

Mr. GRIMES offered an amendment appropriating $7,000 for the enlargement of the chapel at the Naval Academy and the erection of tablets to the memory of the naval officers who have fallen during the rebellion. Adopted.

Mr. SPRAGUE offered the following amendment, which was adopted:

Provided, That in the purchase of carpets and furniture provided for in this act, they shall be of domestic manufacture.

The bill was then passed.

THE NEW-YORK APPRAISERS.

Mr. CHANDLER called up the Senate bill to amend the acts relating to officers employed in the examination of imported merchandise in the District of New-York, which was read as follows:

That in lieu of the appraisers now authorized by law for the appraisement of goods, wares, and merchandise at the port of New-York, the President shall, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint for said port one appraiser who has had experience as an appraiser, or who shall be practically acquainted with the quality and value of some one or more of the chief articles of importation subject to appraisement, and who, before he enters upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe to an oath faithfully to direct and supervise the inspection and appraisement according to law of such goods, wares and merchandise as the collector may direct, and as is hereinafter provided for, and to cause to be duly reported to the collector the true value thereof, as required by law; provided that the collector shall not, under any circumstances, direct to be sent for examination and appraisement less than one package of every invoice, and one package, at least, out of every ten packages of goods, wares and merchandise, and a greater number should he, or the appraiser, or any assistant appraiser, deem it necessary; provided, nevertheless, that when, from the character and description of the goods, wares and merchandise, or from any other cause, the Secretary of the Treasury may be of the opinion that the examination of a less proportion of the packages will amply protect the revenue, he may, by special or general regulation, direct a less number of packages to be examined; and the appraiser created by this act, in cases of necessary and occasional absence, may perform his functions by deputy, designated by him in writing, from the assistant-appraisers, to be appointed under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2. That in lieu of the assistant appraisers now authorized by law for the port of New-York, the Secretary of the Treasury may appoint not exceeding ten assistant appraisers for said port, who have had experience as appraisers, or who shall be practically acquainted with the quality and value of some one or more of the chief articles of importation subject to appraisement, and included among the goods, wares or merchandise to the examination or appraisement of which they are respectively to be assigned, and who shall be employed in appraising goods according to law, under the direction and supervision of the appraiser, and each of whom shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe an oath diligently and faithfully to examine and inspect such goods, wares and merchandise as the appraiser may direct, and truly to report to him the true value thereof according to law; such report to be subject to revision and correction by the appraiser, and, when approved by him, to be transmitted to the collector, and to be deemed and taken to be the appraisement by the United States local appraiser of the district of such goods, wares or merchandise required by law.

SEC. 3. That one of the assistant appraisers to be appointed by virtue of this act, with special reference to his qualifications for the duties in this section set forth, shall, in addition to the duties that may be required of him by the appraisment, perform the said act in the place and stead of the special examiner of drugs, medicines, chemicals and so forth, at the port of New-York, as provided by the act of June 26, 1848, chapter 70; and one of the assistant appraisers, to be appointed by virtue of this act, shall be detailed by the appraiser for the supervision of the department for the examination of merchandise damaged on the voyage of importation, and, as far as practicable, to make examinations and appraisals of such, or any other merchandise, as the appraiser may direct, and, in all cases, truly to report to him the extent of such damage, or the true value of the merchandise appraised, as the case may be, according to law; such report to be subject to the same revision, correction and approval by the appraiser as prescribed in the second section of this act, and to be in like manner, and for the same purpose, transmitted to the collector.

SEC. 4. That in lieu of the clerks now employed in the examination, inspection and appraisement of goods, wares and merchandise at the port of New-York, the Secretary of the Treasury may, on the nomination of the appraiser, appoint such number of examiners as said Secretary may deem necessary (their compensation to be limited and fixed by him) to aid each of said assistant appraisers in the examination, inspection and appraisement of goods, wares and merchandise, according to law; and no person shall be appointed such examiner who is not at the time of his appointment practically and thoroughly acquainted with the character, quality and value of the articles in the enumeration and appraisement of which he is to be employed; nor shall any such examiner enter upon the discharge of his duties as such until he shall have taken and subscribed an oath faithfully and diligently to discharge such duties according to law; and the Secretary of the Treasury shall also appoint, on the nomination of the appraiser, the clerks, verifiers, samplers, openers, packers and messengers employed in the appraiser's office, or in any of the departments thereof, and shall limit and fix their number and compensation.

SEC. 5. That it shall not be lawful for the appraiser, the assistant appraisers, examiners, clerks, verifiers, samplers, messengers or other persons employed in the departments of appraisal, or any of them to engage or be employed in any commercial or mercantile business, or act as agent for any person engaged in such business, during the term of their appointment.

SEC. 6. That the appraisers who may be appointed under the provisions of this act shall receive a compensation of $6,000 per annum, and the assistant appraisers shall each receive a compensation of $4,000 per annum, to be paid out of the appropriations for defraying the expenses of collecting the revenue.

SEC. 7. That the compensation allowed respectively to the appraiser and assistant appraisers under the provisions of this act, shall be paid to them in monthly payments, and in due proportion for any period less than one month for the time they may actually serve.

SEC. 8. That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed; and all provisions of existing acts relating to the duties of the appraisers now provided for by law, or to any proceedings consequent or dependant upon the action of such appraisers, and not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, shall be construed to apply to the appraiser and assistant appraisers provided for by this act, and shall be continued in full force; and that this act shall take effect on and after the 1st day of May, A. D. 1866.

SEC. 9. That if at any time, from an increase of importations, or from any other cause, there shall be found upon the floors of the public stores, in the City of New-York, an accumulation of merchandise awaiting appraisement, it shall be the duty of the appraiser, under the regulations established by the Secretary of the Treasury, to direct the assistant appraisers and others associated with them in this branch of the public business, to devote time, beyond the usual business hours, in each day during daylight to their respective duties, to the end that the business of appraisement may be faithfully and more promptly dispatched.

Mr. SPRAGUE took exceptions to the second proviso of the first section. He said it would open the way to frauds upon the Government. He had been told by one of the Revenue Commissioners that the Government had lost twenty-five millions per year by such frauds.

Mr. CHANDLER said the provision was simply intended to cover the case of iron and such other articles as did not require a close examination of each package.

Mr. GUTHRIE said the practice had never been to examine more than enough packages to give the examination a fair sample of the whole importation. If the appraisers do their duty under this custom, the revenue would be protected. His experience was, that American merchants and importers were uniformly honest, and when frauds were committed, they were committed by those who owed no allegiance to the Government.

Mr. FESSENDEN moved to amend the sixth section by fixing $4,000 per annum as the compensation for the appraiser, and $3,000 each for the assistant appraisers.

Mr. CHANDLER said the chief appraiser in New-York ought to be equal to the best merchant in New-York. A first-class man was needed, and he could only be had for a good salary.

Mr. FESSENDEN—If you can't find a good man in New-York for $4,000 a year, come to Maine, and we will supply you.

Mr. CHANDLER said, all business houses paid their principal men large salaries. He had no doubt the chief designers in Mr. SPRAGUE'S print factory got $10,000 a year.

Mr. SPRAGUE—He gets just $120 a month. I would suggest to the Senator from Michigan that he is a first-class man, and the Government pays him but $3,000 a year.

Mr. SPRAGUE moved an amendment to Mr. FESSENDEN'S amendment, making the salary of the chief appraiser $3,000, and of the assistants $2,500 each, which was disagreed to.

Mr. FESSENDEN'S amendment fixing the salary of the chief appraiser at $4,000, and the assistants at $3,000 each, was adopted, and the bill was then passed. It now goes to the House.

REVENUE DISTRICTS.

Mr. CHANDLER called up the bill to establish the collection district of Port Huron and extend the district of Puget Sound, which was passed.

SALE OF MARINE HOSPITALS AND REVENUE CUTTERS.

Mr. CHANDLER called up the bill to authorize the sale of marine hospitals and of revenue cutters, providing as follows:

SECTION 1. Authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to lease or sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, after due notice in the public newspapers, such marine hospital buildings, and lands appertaining thereto as he may deem advisable, empowering him to make, execute and deliver all needful conveyances to the lessees or purchasers thereof respectively, and the proceeds of said leases and sales are hereby appropriated for the Marine Hospital establishments; provided that no one of such Marine Hospitals shall be exposed to sale or lease where the relief furnished to sick mariners shall show an extent of relief equal to twenty cases per diem on an average for the last preceding four years, or where no other suitable and sufficient hospital accommodations can be procured upon reasonable terms for the comfort and convenience of patients.

Section 2. Authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury in his discretion to sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash, after due notice in the public newspapers, such vessels of the revenue service as he may deem proper, and to expend the proceeds of said sales in the purchase or construction of other vessels better suited to the wants of said service.

Mr. FESSENDEN moved to amend the first section by adding after the words "appertaining thereto," the words "at Burlington, Vermont; Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio; Pittsburg, Pennsylvania; Galena, Illinois; St. Louis; Evansville, Indiana; and Paducah, Kentucky." Adopted.

Mr. FESSENDEN moved to strike out the following words from the proviso of the first section: "Where the relief furnished to sick mariners shall show an extent of relief equal to twenty cases per diem on an average for the last preceding four years or." The amendment was agreed to and the bill was passed.

CHANGE OF NAME.

Mr. CHANDLER called up the bill to authorize the name of the ship Art Union to be the name of the ship George N. Bernard. Passed.

AMERICAN REGISTERS.

Mr. CHANDLER called up the bill to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to issue American registers to the Canadian-built steamers Michigan and Dispatch, and to the American-built vessel W. K. Mure; which was passed.

THE NEW-YORK AND WEST INDIES TELEGRAPH FIRM.

Mr. CHANDLER called up the bill granting to the International Ocean Telegraph Company the right and privilege to establish telegraphic communication between the city of New-York and the West India islands. As reported by the Committee, the title is changed to read: "An act to encourage telegraphic communications between the United States and the island of Cuba, and other West India islands and the Bahamas. It provides that

Whereas, James A. Serimson, Alfred Pell, Jr., Alexander Hamilton, Jr., Oliver K. King, Maturin L. Delafield, William F. Smith and James M. Digges, their associates, successors and assignees, persons composing the International Ocean Telegraph Company, an incorporated company, chartered by the State of New-York, are desirous of establishing a line of submarine telegraphic communication between the United States and the West India Islands and the Bahamas: Now, therefore, in order to facilitate the said enterprise,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That the said International Oceanic Telegraph Company, incorporated under the laws of the State of New-York, their successors and assigns, shall have the sole privilege for a period of fourteen years from the approval of this act, to lay, construct, land, maintain and operate telegraphic lines or cable in or over the waters, reefs, islands, shores and lands, over which the United States have jurisdiction from the State of Florida, in the said United States, to the island of Cuba, and the Bahamas, either or both, and other West India Islands.

SECTION 2. That the said International Ocean Telegraph Company shall, at all times during a state of war, give the United States the free use of said cable or cables, to a telegraphic operator of its own selection, to transmit any messages to and from its military, naval and diplomatic or similar agents, provided that the said International Ocean Telegraph Company shall, within the period of five years from the passage of this act, cause the said submarine telegraph cable or cables to be laid down, and that the said cable or cables shall be in successful operation for the transmission of messages within the said period of five years, otherwise this grant to be null and void.

SEC. 3. That Congress shall have power at any time to alter or repeal the foregoing act.

Mr. SHERMAN objected to granting the sole privilege to any company in such enterprise.

Mr. CHANDLER said there was great expense and hazard in the undertaking, and some such inducement must be held out to capitalists, or they would not invest their money in it. Every other nation encouraged such enterprises, and he intended to press such bills until the United States occupied the foremost position among the commercial nations of the world.

Mr. SHERMAN said this proposition was to legalize a monopoly. If left free to competition there would be over twenty wires in twenty years between here and Havana.

Mr. BROWN said there were a great many wires now between here and New-York and other cities, yet they all consolidated, and are all owned by one monopoly, which charged what it pleased.

Mr. SHERMAN said he had been conversing with gentlemen who intended to start new lines to compete with this monopoly, and he would go hand in hand with any one in an effort to break down the associated monopoly that now controls the telegraphic systems of the United States.

Mr. CHANDLER said the bill was drawn upon the principle of the patent laws. If a man invents a washboard he gets the exclusive right of his fourteen years.

Mr. SHERMAN—These men did not invent anything.

Mr. CHANDLER said they were the first to propose the scheme; they were the first to see the importance of it, and the first to offer to invest their money.

Mr. DOOLITTLE asked Mr. CHANDLER to alter the third section of the bill so as to give to Congress the right at any time to fix the rate for telegraphing.

Mr. MORRILL said that power was already in the third section of the bill.

Mr. DOOLITTLE said the terms were too general. He would rather have his suggestion incorporated in the third section.

Mr. MORRILL did not think the bill had the first element of a monopoly in it. As against everybody but Congress the Company had an exclusive right; but Congress had the right reserved in the third section to alter, amend or repeal the bill at any time.

Mr. FESSENDEN said the bill granted an exclusive right, which the Company could not get in any other way.

Mr. MORRILL proceeded to reply to Mr. SHERMAN'S objections to the bill, arguing that it was not calculated to build up a monopoly.

Mr. SHERMAN move to strike out the word "sole" in the first section before the word "privilege."

Mr. CHANDLER said Mr. SHERMAN might as well move to lay the bill on the table. His amendment would kill it.

The yeas and nays were demanded on the adoption of Mr. SHERMAN'S amendment. Yeas 13; nays 17.

YEAS—Messrs. Anthony, Brown, Buckalew, Fessenden, Foster, Grimes, Henderson, Howe, Norton, Sherman, Sprague, Trumbull, Van Winkle—13.

NAYS—Messrs. Chandler, Conness, Cragin, Cresswell, Doolittle, Guthrie, Harris, Kirkwood, Morgan, Pomeroy, Ramsey, Stewart, Sumner, Wade, Willey, Wilson—17.

Mr. CONNESS subsequently asked to change his vote.

Mr. BROWN demanded the yeas and nays on the passage of the bill.

Mr. FESSENDEN moved to adjourn. Negatived.

Mr. SHERMAN moved to add to the last section a provision that Congress may at any time fix or alter the rate of sending messages.

Mr. FESSENDEN renewed his motion to adjourn, and with an understanding that the vote on this bill be taken at 1 o'clock to-morrow, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THE SPRINGFIELD ARMORY.

Mr. DAWES asked leave to introduce a joint resolution in relation to the public lands pertaining to the armory at Springfield.

It revives the act of June 17, 1844, relating to the public lands appertaining to the armories at Springfield and Harper's Ferry.

Mr. DAWES having explained the object of the joint resolution, which was simply to provide for the exchange of strips of land, rendered necessary by the grading of streets, leave was granted, and the joint resolution was read three times and passed.

THANKS OF CONGRESS TO MAJOR-GENS. GRANGER AND GARFIELD.

Mr. SMITH introduced a joint resolution giving the thanks of Congress to Major-Gens. GORDON GRANGER and JAMES A. GARFIELD, and to the men under their command, for their gallantry and heroic conduct in saving the Army of the Cumberland from disaster at the battle of Chickamauga.

It was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House proceeded to the unfinished business of yesterday, being the bill making appropriations for the legislative, executive and judicial expenses of the Government.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, moved to amend the bill by striking out a paragraph increasing salaries of the Director, Treasurer, Assayer and other officers and clerks of the mint at Philadelphia.

Mr. O'NEILL sought the floor to speak against the amendment, but was cut off by the pendency of the previous question. The vote was taken by yeas and nays, and resulted as follows: Yeas, 88; nays, 46. So the amendment was agreed to. The bill was then passed.

MAP OF THE BATTLE-FIELDS.

Mr. LAWRENCE, of Ohio, introduced a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Military Affairs to inquire as to the propriety of providing for the publication of a work giving a topographical map of the battle-fields of the rebellion, with roads, ravines, plans of battle, disposition of troops, landscape views of battle-fields, plans of forts, earthworks, &c.

THE HABEAS CORPUS BILL.

The House proceeded, as the next business in order during the morning hour, to the consideration of the bill reported last week from the Judiciary Committee, to amend the act of March 3, 1863, relating to habeas corpus, and regulating judicial proceedings in certain cases.

Mr. ROGERS, of New-Jersey addressed the House in opposition to the bill.

Mr. ROGERS said it was probable that no Democrat would vote for the bill, and supposed that according to the theory put forth yesterday by the gentleman from New-York, (Mr. CONKLING,) they must, therefore, be actuated by motives of unfairness and unkindness, and by a desire to thwart the policy of the Administration. He was here to say that in the vote which Democrats would give on this or any other measure, they would be moved by high and conscientious convictions; and he would not charge on the other side of the House any different motives. He went on to discuss the provisions of the bill, which he denounced as violative of the fundamental principles on which the Government was founded.

Mr. McKEE advocated the passage of the bill, showing the necessity of such legislation, and wishing it to be applied to his own State.

Mr. GARFIELD, advocating the bill, said he did not doubt that many military trials were held which could not be sustained in the courts of the United States. He was for Congress to pass an act of indemnity which would cover all the acts of officers of the Government done in good faith and for the public interests. He was glad that the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. McKEE) had the courage to ask that the law be applied to his own State, and to all the States, so as to shield every man who, in the hour of danger, took liberties which perhaps the Constitution would not excuse. Mr. GARFIELD related some incidents which had occurred in Kentucky, showing the necessity for this measure.

Mr. HARDING, of Kentucky, wished the gentleman to mention the names of some of the persons he had referred to in that connection.

Mr. GARFIELD declined to do so. He respected a brave man too much to put the bloodhounds of secession on his track.

Mr. HARDING, of Kentucky—Give me the Court where the indictment was found.

Mr. GARFIELD replied that he could give the gentleman and his friends no clue to the life and security of such persons. [Laughter.]

Mr. SMITH advocated the passage of the bill. He said that if Kentucky preferred to give protection to rebels, it was for Congress to say that it preferred to give protection to the Union people, and he believed that the passage of this bill was the only remedy for them.

Mr. ROSS opposed the bill, arguing that persons who had been punished wrongfully and arbitrarily should not be deprived of the remedy which the laws of their country gave them against the wrongdoers.

Mr. COOK closed the debate in support of the bill. He stated in 1833, when South Carolina proposed to nullify the laws of the United States, it was deemed Democratic to enact a bill substantially the same as this bill—providing that if an officer should be prosecuted for any act done in the collection of revenue, he should have the right to have the case tried in the Federal Courts. That law, which lay at the basis of this one, was passed by the Democratic Party and approved by Gen. JACKSON.

Mr. BINGHAM remarked that the only Senator who voted against it was JOHN TYLER.

Mr. COOK thought it strange that gentlemen who now claim to be representatives of the party that passed the law of 1833 should find that this law which embodied the same pensions was unconstitutional. He had evidence in his possession to show that there was a disposition manifested in Kentucky to punish Union men there for acts done during the war under military authority. Fifteen hundred suits had been brought in that State against men for doing acts which they had been commanded by their military superiors to do.

Mr. SMITH corrected him as to the number, saying that there were thirty-five hundred such suits.

Mr. COOK said that the question was whether the Government would protect these men in executing its orders. It was not fair that they should be turned over to be judged by men who entertain the utmost bitterness and hostility against them, from the fact that they were arrayed on opposite sides during the war. The bill did not seek to protect the men who issued orders, but the men who were compelled to obey them. He had been informed by one of the members elect from Tennessee, Col. STOKES, that since he had left home, a horse, which had been captured from the rebels or guerrillas, branded "C. S." and given over to him, had been replevined by the man claiming to be the former owner. The simple principle involved in this bill was whether the Government would protect the men who had been engaged in executing its laws and suppressing the rebellion.

The motion to recommit pending since last week was withdrawn, and the previous question seconded on the passage of the bill. The vote was then taken and resulted yeas 112, nays 31. So the bill was passed.

The vote was strictly a party one. Of the Kentucky members, McKee, Rousseau, Smith and S. J. Randall voted for it; and Trimble, Ritter, Grider and Harding against it. Mr. Shanklin was paired.

THE REGULAR AND VOLUNTEER FORCES.

The Speaker presented a message from the President of the United States, transmitting in answer to a resolution of inquiry, a report from the Secretary of War as to the number of men and officers in the regular and volunteer service of the United States. Referred to the Military Committee.

CORRECTIONS.

There were some errors in the publication of the vote on the passage of the Loan Bill Friday night last. Mr. HOTCHKISS appears as voting yea. He was not present and did not vote.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, and Mr. CONKLING do not appear as voting at all. They voted yea.

DUTY ON BARLEY.

Mr. KETCHAM presented the memorial of R. W. EVANS & Co. and WILLARD & WATERBURY for the admission of barley from Canada at a moderate rate of duty. Referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

THE REVENUE TAX ON MONEY.

Mr. CONKLING, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported a bill enacting that no exemption from liability to State or municipal taxation shall by virtue of any act of Congress be held to extend to money, and asked that it be put upon its passage. Mr. CONKLING briefly explained the bill.

Mr. STEVENS asked a question as to whether the bill did not violate a condition made in the law authorizing the issue of legal-tender notes.

Mr. CONKLING replied that was a very fair and cogent criticism, because it went to the question whether this bill was violating public faith. The answer to it was this: The true extent and meaning of that act, and of the other acts of Congress, never was to exempt money; on the contrary, the exemption was confined exclusively to the securities of the United States — securities which were held as investments, not securities which they passed and used as currency. In some of the States no pretence was ever made that the exemption did extend to money. But the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. SPALDING) said that in his State there had been a strained construction put on the law. There it was forced to mean that not only national securities should be exempted, but that money itself should be exempted. No such thing was meant, and no such construction had been acted on by the commercial classes. The bill now reported was to define and render certain what was beyond all question the original meaning of the law.

Mr. LE BLOND asked whether, if the Democrats should vote for the bill, the gentleman (Mr. CONKLING) would feel it his duty to turn round and defeat it.

Mr. CONKLING replied that he would like to know the commercial value of a joke that was repeated three times in two days.

Mr. LE BLOND said that the gentleman did not answer the question yesterday, and did not seem disposed to do so to-day.

Mr. SPALDING said that he was satisfied with the modified form in which the Committee of Ways and Means had attempted to carry out the proposition he had submitted, and he thought it ought to become a law.

A PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

Mr. C. T. HULBURD asked and obtained leave to make a personal explanation. He sent up an article from the New-York Tribune commenting on his speech on the Loan Bill some days since. Mr. GREELEY, he said, seemed to think, that the fool's cap should be sent to Washington. But he (Mr. HULBURD) rather thought that a statement which he had read, showing that the Secretary of the Treasury had been retiring non-interest-bearing instead of interest-bearing notes, showed that the fool's cap and bells had better be kept at New-York. He admired Mr. GREELEY in some respects as the champion, for instance, of American industry, but he thought he was a little fast. The country remembered hearing the cry, "On to Richmond," which was so disastrous that its effects had not yet died away, and we were now to hear another cry, "On to specie payments," irrespective of what disasters it might work.

He sent up to the Clerk's desk to be read a newspaper article describing in a ludicrous manner a ride which Mr. GREELEY is said to have taken from Folsom to Placerville, Cal.

Mr. GARFIELD rose to a question of order. All this might be very pleasant, he said, but it was scarcely in order for a member to make an attack on a person not connected with the House, under the pretence of a personal explanation.

The Speaker stated that the gentleman from New-York (CONKLING) had yielded the floor to his colleague, (Mr. HULBURD,) who had asked leave to make a personal explanation for the purpose of replying to an article in the New-York Tribune; that the Chair had asked if there was any objections, and that no objections had been made. The gentleman was proceeding by unanimous consent.

Mr. WENTWORTH—There is an article in that paper about me which I should like to have read. [Laughter.]

The newspaper article referring to Mr. GREELEY was read, and excited a great deal of merriment.

Mr. INGERSOLL—I propose that that article be excluded from the Globe. It is absolutely ridiculous, and it is disgraceful for this House to waste half an hour in listening to such balderdash and nonsense.

Mr. ROSS—I object; I think the people should know what we do here.

Mr. STEVENS remarked that he did not wonder at his friend HULBURD feeling bad about the article in the Tribune. He (HULBURD) had done a great many good things, and therefore he was being abused by the vagrancies of the press. He would soon learn to esteem them at their real value. This same Mr. GREELEY had said of him (STEVENS) that he would go two miles out of his way to kick a bag of specie, just as JOHN RANDOLPH would to kick a sheep. He had even said something about his friend from Chicago (WENTWORTH.) I would like to have that article read, and will have no objections to its going into the Globe.

CONSIDERATION OF THE BILL RELATIVE TO THE TAX ON MONEY RESUMED.

Mr. STEVENS, returning to the bill, said that if this bill could be passed without a violation of the public faith and of public law, it would give him pleasure to vote for it. He would read, however, from the act referred to: All bonds, Treasury notes and other obligations of the United States, shall be exempt from taxation by or under any State or municipal authority. The thirteenth section showed what was meant by that, for it declared that the words "obligations or other securities of the United States in this act shall be held to include and mean all bonds, coupons, national currency, United States notes, fractional notes, checks, &c." No one could doubt that it was meant that United States legal-tender notes should be taxed. He understood the gentleman from New-York to say that Congress did not mean that.

Mr. CONKLING—I did not say that; I only said that Congress did not mean that those securities held and used as money on hand should be exempt.

Mr. STEVENS did not see the distinction; when United States notes were declared to be free from taxation they were declared to be so in everybody's hands and in every particular, unless there was an exception made. Every member could understand this matter, and it was for the House to take the responsibility of passing the bill. A gentleman on the other side (Mr. LE BLOND) had said they were ready to vote for it. He (Mr. STEVENS) did not doubt that; he knew how sacredly they regarded the obligations of the Government; but he had thought members on the Republican side of the House had other ideas.

Messrs. GARFIELD, CONKLING and MORRILL explained the proposed law, defending it from the imputation of repudiating the pledge exempting United States securities from local taxation. The discussion was participated in by Messrs. DAWES, SHELLABARGER, BINGHAM and KASSON, and finally, the House having refused to second the previous question, the bill was recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means and ordered to be printed.

THE TENNESSEE REPRESENTATION.

Mr. RAYMOND desired to ask a question of the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BINGHAM.) That gentleman had some fortnight since made a report from the Committee on Reconstruction for the admission of members from the State of Tennessee. He desired to know, for the purpose of regulating his own movements, when that matter would be brought up again for consideration.

Mr. BINGHAM replied—first, that the gentleman was mistaken as to the nature of the proposition he had reported, and, second, that it might be brought up next week, but would be brought to a vote soon.

Mr. RAYMOND remarked that he had supposed that the object of that measure was to provide for the admission of the members from Tennessee on this floor.

THE CONSULAR AND DIPLOMATIC APPROPRIATION BILLS.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, Mr. DAWES in the chair, and took up the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation Bill.

Mr. BROOKS desired the attention of the Government to be drawn to the propriety of abrogating the treaty with Great Britain for maintaining a squadron on the Coast of Africa. Slavery was abolished in this country, and there was no longer any necessity for continuing that arrangement.

An amendment offered by Mr. KASSON for the appointment of a Solicitor for the State Department was agreed to.

An amendment offered by Mr. BANKS to insert before the word "Mexico" the words "Republic of," was agreed to.

The bill was then laid aside to be reported to the House, and the Committee next took up the Post-office Appropriation Bill.

THE POST-OFFICE APPROPRIATION BILL.

Mr. BROOKS called attention to the necessity of adopting some measure for the better delivery of letters by carriers in New-York and other large cities.

Mr. STEVENS remarked that the matter lay within the jurisdiction of the Post-office Committee.

Mr. BROOKS suggested as a difficulty in the way that that Committee had not the right to report at any time.

The bill was laid aside to be reported to the House.

The Committee rose, and both bills were reported.

The Post-office Appropriation Bill was then passed.

Action on the Diplomatic Appropriation Bill was postponed until to-morrow.

FOREIGN CONVICTS.

On motion of Mr. BANKS, the Senate joint resolution protesting against the pardon by foreign Governments of persons convicted of infamous offences on condition of emigration to the United States, was taken from the table, read twice, and referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

THE NEVADA STATE BOUNDARIES.

On motion of Mr. ASHLEY, of Ohio, the Senate bill concerning the boundaries of the State of Nevada was taken from the Speaker's table, read twice and referred to the Committee on Territories.

THE ANNUAL INSPECTION OF INDIAN AFFAIRS.

On motion of Mr. WINDOM, the Senate bill to provide for an annual inspection into Indian affairs was taken from the Speaker's table, read twice, and referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

ARMY VOLUNTEER NURSES.

Mr. DRIGGS introduced a bill to secure pay, under certain circumstances, to army volunteer nurses, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

The House at 5 P. M. adjourned.

Murder in Roxbury—A Girl Shot by her Lover—A Revelation of Crime.

BOSTON, Tuesday, March 20.

MARY ELLEN KEARNEY was shot dead last evening in the doorway of her father's house in Roxbury, by JOHN MORAN. The parties had been keeping company; but MORAN'S character being reported bad, the father of the young woman had forbidden him the house. The alleged murderer surrendered himself to the police this morning.

Another cause for shooting the young woman is the statement that she accidentally learned the contents of a letter from a man named MALLORY, in Philadelphia, written to MORAN, announcing that the man they garroted had died of his injuries, and cautioning him (MORAN) to keep out of the way. It is said MORAN was recently in Philadelphia.

The Taunton Liquor Case—The United States Marshal vs. The State Constables.

TAUNTON, Mass., Tuesday, March 20.

About noon to-day the liquors seized at Taunton on the 14th inst. were taken away from the State constables by United States Marshal RICHARDSON, and returned to the owners. The constables threatened, but made no resistance.

KENTUCKY.

A Man Confesses to Have Been Secretary Seward's Would-be Assassin.

LOUISVILLE, Tuesday, March 20.

A man named KING, arrested a few days ago for a theft recently committed in Ohio, and awaiting in jail a requisition from the Governor of Ohio, confessed to HARRIS, a recently confined Government detective, that he (KING) and not PAYNE, was the man who attempted to assassinate Secretary SEWARD. His confession being repeated to Gen. JEFF. C. DAVIS, who temporarily commands this department, the latter telegraphed to Washington for the parties who were acquainted with the facts of the assassination conspiracy to come and investigate the affair. KING is identified here as a rebel spy during the rebellion.

TUESDAY, March 20—P. M.

The price of Gold to-day after opening steady at 128¼@128⅜, fell off before 2 o'clock to 127⅝@127¾, but at a later hour advanced again to 128¼@128⅜ ⅌ cent. The Gold Room showed more weakness than the Foreign Exchanges. The latter were in good request and Bills on London, first-class or standard drawers, as they are known, rose to 107⅞@108 ⅌ cent, for the Java's mail in the morning. It is understood that quite a large business was done for this packet, the lower figures for Gold having brought forward remitters. There is a good supply of Bills from the South and from our New-York exporters of Cotton, but the Bankers themselves were free buyers of this class of Bills early in the day, before advancing their own rates. The Export of Domestic Produce from this port for the week, is to the value of $5,091,287, including 9,925 bales Cotton to Liverpool and 3,117 bales to Havre.

The Bank statement of last night has added to the easy feeling in the Money market, and the leading Brokers are tempted with loans at call as low as 5 ⅌ cent. There is not much said on the Street to-day in regard to the Funding Bill before Congress, which was yesterday recommitted to the Ways and Means Committee of the House. The subject was again before that Committee this morning, but no conclusion arrived at. We infer, from the discussion in the House yesterday, that a material difference of opinion exists as to the nature or qualifications of the Bill between the Chairman of the Committee, Mr. MORRILL of Vermont, and Mr. HOOPER of Massachusetts, one of its prominent members. There is also an impression at Washington that the measure will ultimately be so qualified as to exclude the old Greenbacks which bear no interest from the funding operations of the Treasury, leaving their gradual contraction, hereafter, either to further legislation at the next session of Congress, or to the discretion of the Secretary in applying part of his surplus revenues to this object. The matter will probably not be determined in both Houses of Congress for several weeks to come. In the Senate opinions are quite as wide apart, judging from the recent movement of Mr. SHERMAN of Ohio, as in the House.

On the Stock Exchange, the Government Securities were steady on the 5-20s and 7.30 ⅌ cents., but weaker on the 10-40s. On Wall-street, among the great dealers, a fair amount of business was done. The Railway speculation on the Exchange has become more generally buoyant than noticed in our report of Monday's market. The Bull interest is extending over the whole list, and besides making a further advance of 4@5 ⅌ cent. on Rock Island to-day, took strong hold of Reading, Pittsburgh and Northwest Preferred. The rise in Michigan Southern is also maintained, and without any signs of making the stock scarce for delivery. The purpose of the parties moving in it would seem to be rather on the forthcoming annual report of the Company, and the probability of an early resumption of dividends, than for any cornering operation. The Rock Island demand is on the near approach of the April Dividend; the known cash surplus in the office of the Company, and the chances of a renewed contest in June for the Direction of the Road.

The following quotations were made at 5 30 P. M. as compared with Monday night. Governments steady; the Railways strong and much excited; Foreign Exchange firm; Gold 128¼.

The Tax on Savings' Deposit.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

If you ever allow correspondents to remark upon the sentiments expressed in your money articles, I would be glad to say a few words in respect to what is said as to taxing savings banks, in the issue of the 16th March. In referring to the memorials going forward, asking for the repeal of the tax of one-half of one per cent. per annum upon the deposits in these institutions, a strong hope is expressed that they may not be successful.

I submit that the tax is palpably unjust and unequal. Every other person having an income arising from money invested on interest pays a tax upon that income, provided it exceeds $600 a year. If it is below that sum, he pays nothing, and he pays no tax upon the money other than that assessed upon the income.

The depositors in Savings Banks pay the usual income tax of five per cent. upon the whole of the interest derivable from their deposits, as well that which is paid to them as that which is retained by the Banks to accumulate for their benefit. If there was an exemption in their favor where the income of the depositors fell short of $600, they would be placed on an equality with other men in respect to the income tax; and, like other persons of small incomes, they would not be burdened at all with this tax. In fact, if not discriminated against, not one of them would be subject to an income tax; for no deposit is allowed in a Savings Bank of which the income would amount to anything like $600. To this extent they fare worse than people who invest their money themselves, or through other agencies than Savings Banks. But the petitions do not, I believe, seek to correct this, though it is difficult to see how it can be defended. The grievance is, that in addition to this tax which they pay, beyond what other people, not Savings Bank depositors, have to pay, they are taxed one-half of one per cent. upon the money deposited. It is as though another individual, who has loaned his money at interest, should, in addition to the tax of five per cent. upon the income, be further required to pay one-half per cent. upon the principal. All that is asked in behalf of the servants, poor widows, and others of the class who deposit in these banks, is, that they be taxed in the same proportion as other people are who possess similar property to the same or a greater amount. Is not this just? The machinery of a savings bank has nothing to do with the question. Simply persons who are willing to give some portion of their time for the benefit of the less prosperous part of the community consent to be gratuitous trustees for the management of the savings of the industrious poor. They do not and cannot derive the slightest individual gain or benefit for the sacrifice of their time to this charitable object. Nor do the accumulations which are made by some of the savings institutions affect the question. These belong to the depositors equally with their original contributions. They are kept for a time as a safety fund to meet casual losses on securities, and to enable the trustees promptly to meet the calls of depositors in a time of pressure, when some description of securities are not readily convertible. They are eventually divided among depositors in the shape of increased dividends of interest, and, in the meantime, are kept in other banks subject to call and without interest.

I hope your able assistant who compiles the money articles, and whose remarks I always read with pleasure and instruction, may, in the light of the considerations I have adverted to, revise his opinion, and add the deserved weight of his influence in favor of the petitioners.

A TRUSTEE OF A SAVINGS BANK.

We readily give place to the foregoing remarks, though they certainly fail to convince us of the justice of any very peculiar claim to exemption from the common burden of Government taxation on behalf of the Savings Banks, especially where, as in the great State and City of New-York, they have abundant surplus means, not divided to their depositors of the day, out of which to pay this ½ ⅌ cent. Aside from this is the graver objection to all class exemption, which, once entertained by Congress and fairly entered upon, would soon impair, if not ultimately overthrow, the whole Internal Revenue system. And we know of no class more deeply or directly interested in the integrity of this system, in its relation to the Public Debt, than Savings Depositors.

In the weekly bank statement, printed yesterday, the deposit and circulation of the National Merchants' Exchange Bank were incorrectly given. The actual figures should have been: Deposits, $2,267,442; circulation, $415,275, making the aggregate of both items $2,682,717, instead of $2,882,716, as in the table of yesterday. The bank has a gold and legal tender reserve of $692,518, or over $21,000 in excess of the amount required by law.

Barley Malt has been quiet and nominal. The movements in Breadstuffs during the past fortnight, Mr. EDWARD BILL notices thus: "There is but little animation in the market for Flour, and the fortnight past has been one of great quietness, closing at lower rates. The decline in gold has had considerable effect upon the medium and common grades, and restricts the shipping demand, but for all choice brands the home trade (under the influence of light stocks, and with but little prospect of any material increase before next harvest,) is firm at our quotations. For Wheat there is but little demand, and the market closes heavily. Present prices are far above shippers' views, and with the low rate of Exchange now prevalent there is no inquiry for foreign account. The City millers have been the only purchasers, but there is now less inquiry from that quarter, and buyers have the market greatly in their own favor. The stock is reduced to about 1,500,000 bushels of all kinds, a small part of which only is choice. Rye is unsettled and lower. Indian Corn is unsettled and fluctuates with the tone of foreign orders and the rates for gold. The stock is reducing, but is still rather large for the season. The export clearances from this port for the fortnight foot up: To Great Britain and Ireland, 324 bbls. Flour, 371,078 bushels Corn, 27,635 bushels Oats; to Continental ports, 3,800 bushels Wheat, 2,250 bushels Corn, 45,169 bushels Rye; to South America, 11,625 bbls. Flour, 75 bbls. NEWS OF THE DAY.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate yesterday Mr. FESSENDEN reported the Military Academy Appropriation Bill with amendments, one of which strikes out the proviso prohibiting the payment of money to cadets appointed since January last from States lately in rebellion. Mr. MORRILL reported a joint resolution from the Committee on the District of Columbia, appropriating $25,000 for the relief of destitute negroes in the District, to be expended under the supervision of the Chief of the Freedmen's Bureau, which was passed. The Naval Appropriation Bill was taken up. Mr. ANTHONY offered an amendment directing the Secretary of the Navy to appoint a board of five naval officers to select a suitable place for the location of the Naval Academy. The amendment was disagreed to. After receiving several amendments the bill was passed. The bill in relation to the New-York appraisers was next considered, and after some debate was passed. The bill authorizing the sale of marine hospitals and revenue cutters was next called and passed. The bill authorizing the International Telegraph Company to establish a telegraph line between New-York and the West Indies was then considered and met with considerable opposition. The vote will be taken to-day.

In the House, a joint resolution was passed in relation to the public lands pertaining to the armory at Springfield. Mr. SMITH introduced a joint resolution, giving the thanks of Congress to Major-Gens. GORDON, GRANGER and JAMES A. GARFIELD, and to the men under their commands for their gallantry and heroic conduct in saving the Army of the Cumberland from disaster at the battle of Chicamauga. It was referred. The appropriation bill was next taken up, and after being amended was passed. Mr. LAWRENCE introduced a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Military Affairs to inquire as to the propriety of providing for the publication of a work giving a topographical map of the battle-fields of the rebellion. The next business in order was the consideration of the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1863, relating to habeas corpus and regulating judicial proceedings in certain cases. The object of this measure is to provide legal protection for military officials and Union citizens in the lately rebel States. The bill passed by a vote of 112 to 31. The bill enacting that no exemption from State or municipal taxation shall apply to money was then taken up and debated at considerable length, and finally recommitted.

Considerable interest is attached to the recent discovery of rich deposits of auriferous pyrites and gold-bearing quartz, above Washington, on the Potomac, near the Great Falls. It is stated that the property has been purchased by Philadelphians. A stock company has been organized, with a capital of $375,000. A powerful engine, for quartz crushing and sublimating the ore is on the ground, the erection of a quartz mill completed, and Cornish miners, under the direction of an engineer, are penetrating the rich ledges of the property. The mint assay of the surface rock yields $116 per ton of 2,000 pounds. The sulphurets are in excess of that.

It presents no obstacles, and the work of construction will progress without difficulty.

The moulders' strike at Troy still continues, but there is little or no excitement in regard to the matter. A meeting of the Moulders' and Stove-mounters' Union was held on Saturday evening, at which, it is said, the strike was denounced by a number present. LOCAL NEWS.

An important opinion was given yesterday by Mr. Justice JAMES, of the Supreme Court, involving to a great extent the rights and liabilities of lessees and their tenants in cases where fires occur and the buildings are partially destroyed. This case came up on a motion for an injunction to restrain the owner of premises Nos. 442, 444, 446, 448, 448½ and 450 Broadway, (a portion of which extended through to what is known as No. 16 Crosby-street,) from taking down the walls. A fire occurred in the City Assembly Rooms on the 15th ult. These rooms formed a part of the premises enumerated, and some of the buildings were destroyed; others were less damaged. The decision is important, for the reason that there are other cases depending upon the principles involved in the opinion of Justice JAMES. In another Court, yesterday afternoon, we heard counsel quote the decision in question, although at the time he did not know to what extent it went, inasmuch as it had not then been published.

FERNANDO WOOD & Co. met at Clinton Hall, last evening, and resolved to aid the Fenians. They furthermore adopted a series of resolutions, wherein they say that they are in favor of a radical reform in the administration of our municipal affairs, believing that the corrupt practices of many of our officials of both political parties as disgraceful to this great city, and injurious to its prosperity and progress. It is folly, they add, to prosecute for petty larceny, intemperance, assault and battery, and other minor offences, when high official positions are filled by men who are plundering the people of tens of thousands annually, and yet go not only unpunished, but are the recipients of newspaper praise and popular support. Mr. WOOD addressed the assembly with considerable fervor.

At the meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Health yesterday President SCHULTZ presented a report covering his conferences with the butchers; but the Board, unwilling to indorse all the suggestions of the report, tabled it. After a long and animated discussion, of which the prevalent sentiment was that Washington Market must be demolished, the Board adjourned to 5 o'clock this morning, then to accompany its President to that market on a tour of inspection.

The Committee appointed to investigate the charges of corruption made against the Committee on the Construction of the New Court-house met again yesterday. All the evidence being in, the Committee adjourned to Monday next, when Mr. CRAM is to sum up. Mr. ELY stated that he had nothing further to say in the matter, and left the case in the hands of the Committee.

The argument in the matter of the Receivership of the Columbian Insurance Company was concluded yesterday, in the Supreme Court, before Justice BARNARD. Messrs. LAROCQUE, FIELD and WHITNEY argued the motion at length. The decision of the Court is reserved.

The American Institute spent a third evening in debating and amending their proposed new code of by-laws last night, and after the twenty-first article had been adopted, a recess was taken until Tuesday evening next at 7½ o'clock.

BERTHA ANSPACHER, aged 12 years, residing at No. 553 Fifth-street, was terribly burned by the explosion of a kerosene oil lamp during Monday night, that death ensued in a few hours. Coroner GOVER held an inquest on the body.

Gold fell to 127½@127⅞ at one time yesterday, but recovered to 128¼, the price of Monday night. Exchange on London rose to 107⅞@108 ℔ cent. Money easy. Government securities steady, and the railway speculation buoyant and more generally extended over the list.

There was rather more animation in a few leading kinds of Produce and Merchandise yesterday, but the markets were generally heavy, and the tendency of prices in favor of buyers. Real estate was also declining in value, the fall since the middle of February being equal to from 10@15 ℔ cent. on all other than strictly fancy property. Freights were quiet.

The receipts of all kinds of animals at the markets for the week amount to 28,073, against 28,948 the previous week. The number of beeves is 5,326; milch cows, 129; calves, 702; sheep, 14,507; swine, 7,407. The beef market opened dull, and prices continued to decline until the close on Tuesday. The poorest beeves were sold for about 10c. ℔ lb., dressed weight, while the few extras did not realize over 19c.@20c. ℔ lb. Common to good cattle ranged from 14c.@16c. ℔ lb., and some sold as high as 17c. ℔ lb. Poor cattle were offered freely and sold slowly. Milch cows were in good supply, with little demand, except for superior milkers. The price ranged from $50@$85. A few very poor ones were sold as low as $30 each. Calves were heavy, trade dull, and prices tending downward. Good calves sold for 12c.@13c. ℔ lb., live weight. Sheep were light for the week, the demand increasing near the close of the market, and prices tending upwards. Live hogs were in moderate supply, with no change in prices since our last report.

Government Taxation and State Authority.

An interesting question is now before the Supreme Court of the United States, growing out of the Internal Revenue system, and involving a decision upon the limits of jurisdiction between the National and the State Governments. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts prohibits the sale of liquor within her boundaries. The United States, by their revenue laws, grant licenses for such sales, under which certain citizens of that State, pursuing that business in defiance of the State laws, have been arrested and fined by their authority.

It is argued that the paramount right of the General Government to tax its subjects for its support implies the right to determine the modes and objects of taxation, and that, if this power is exercised conjointly by the State for her own revenue purposes, the right of the latter must yield in case of a conflict. This reasoning seems to us to involve both an error and a fallacy, either of which is fatal to its conclusiveness

In several cases before the Supreme Court to which States have virtually been parties, this very question of taxation has led to elaborate discussions as to the supremacy of the Federal or State Governments over the citizens who are subjects of both; and it has been uniformly held that the power of raising means for its own support, being essential to every government, could not be denied to either of the parties to such controversies. That the field was necessarily one of joint occupation and jurisdiction, and that, from the nature of the case, reliance must be placed on the discretion and forbearance of both Governments to avoid measures which would be mutually embarrassing or oppressive to their common citizens. Under this interpretation of rights, any State clearly has the power as to her own citizens, if her own policy allows it, to tax any pursuit so heavily as to drive it out of existence. What is right or advisable in this regard is to be resolved by the justice and wisdom of her legislators, not conceded by the grace of the General Government. Suppose then that, on the ground of public morality, Massachusetts should lay upon the sale of liquors an impost so heavy that the addition of the excise and license fee exacted by the United States would amount to a prohibition? The Constitution, as interpreted, permits it, and gives the National Government no control over the discretion of the State, nor any right to prescribe her action on the subject.

But that statement of the controversy which represents it as one about joint rights to revenue is merely specious. The dispute is not as to which Government shall make the most out of a certain subject of taxation but as to which Government may create the subject itself. The true point in issue is whether the United States have the power indirectly to call into existence a business whose existence Massachusetts positively forbids? Now nothing is clearer than that beyond the narrow limits of its granted powers the Federal Government has no authority within the several States. Allegiance, and support by the render of military service and the payment of taxes, are the great dues which the citizen owes to the power at Washington—as to all else, his own State prescribes duties and confers rights in relation to his property and conduct. By her laws alone he lives, buys and sells, marries, practises his religion, disposes of his affairs and estate, and is peaceably buried, unless he incurs speedier death as the penalty for breaking them. When, therefore, in the regulation of her internal police, or with a view to amending public morals, a State forbids a certain business to be carried on, her citizens are bound by the prohibition, and it is beyond the powers of the General Government to set it aside. Still less can it assume to permit, under the color of collecting revenue, what it has no power to authorize. Among subjects of taxation which are allowed to exist by State laws, the Federal Government may select such as it pleases for contribution—but it cannot, indirectly any more than directly, originate such as do not exist, against the expressed will of the State.

Consider the mischief that would follow from the admission and extension of such a claim. New-York visits with severe punishment the disturbance of the repose of the dead. The Government might reap a revenue from the trade of the resurrectionist, and introduce it by the fiction of a license. Ohio forbids usurious contracts. The Government might open a profitable source of income by authorizing associations for making loans on usury, under the device of a license. None of the States allow public gaming-houses, and few of them tolerate lotteries. But under the convenient shelter of a license, the Government might erect and be enriched by such establishments, in contempt of the moral sentiment of States. In a word, if the National Government were permitted to extend its right of taxing its citizens so as to enlarge its range by creating or designating the modes of business in which they might engage, the sphere of State citizenship would be wholly invaded by usurped authority.

Arguments upon these grounds will doubtless have their due weight in the decision of the case now before the Supreme Court. The revenue system of the Government is already so burdensome as to require all the vigilance of its officials to prevent evasions. It would be unwise to increase the obstacles to its successful working by adding the hostility of States to the reluctance of individuals, or to extend its scope at the expense of settled constitutional principles.

HEALTH OF THE CITY.—The medical practitioners of the City agree in their observations with those of all other observing citizens, that there has been an extraordinary amount of sickness in New-York within the last few weeks. We suppose the equinoctial season, or its approach, has had something to do with this. The excess of illness, over our common experience, has been chiefly of a rather mild and not a fatal character, such as influenza, the lighter type of bilious diseases, and great lassitude. We think it is well, and more than well, that there is some prospect of our City being partially cleaned and put in order prior to the time at which the cholera is expected.

THE CITY RAILWAY PROJECTS.—The present absolute necessity of adequate railroad communication between the northern and southern limits of the city is receiving considerable attention at Albany, and a variety of bills are before the Legislature, of greater or less merit, aiming at this desirable result. Among these projects is one for a Broadway Underground Road, upon which the Railroad Committee of the Assembly have reported favorably. This is well enough, and when the scheme shall have been carried out, it will doubtless prove a great boon to the city. We trust, however, that the gentlemen of the Railroad Committee will not lose sight of other plans which have been offered. A long period must necessarily elapse before the facilities of an underground road can be available. More prompt relief is needed. The overground or elevated roads present features far more salient. They can be constructed at much less cost and with far greater rapidity. We have already called attention to the great advantages of MOORE's plan for a cable-suspension road, which seems generally to be regarded with favor, and certainly is as unobjectionable as any project of which we have heard. It has been examined by hundreds of persons, including large property-holders on Broadway, scientific men, architects, and well-known railroad engineers, who concur in the opinion that for feasibility and practicability it stands preëminent. The Committee have thus far apparently ignored this plan. It, however, possesses too much merit, and commends itself too highly to all who have taken the trouble to look at it, to admit of its being passed over without a fair consideration of its advantages.

NEW SOUTHERN RAILROAD PROJECTS.—We notice that among the new and progressive projects now being mooted in the South, is that of a railroad connecting Memphis with Central Alabama. To effect this it only requires the stretching of a line to Selma from some point on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad. It would penetrate one of the richest regions in the United States, viewed naturally, and a region greatly in want of railroad communication. Its influence would not be so much to increase the traffic and trade with Memphis, as to enlarge communication with the great river-system of Alabama, which flows southward, and increase the facilities of direct communication between Northern Alabama and the seaboard.

We observe that while in many parts of the South the old railroads that were destroyed during the war have been repaired, there are many other railroad projects, which have been spoken of for years, that bid fair to be built within the next few years. English capitalists are procuring information previous to investing in many of these roads. They have already, since the close of the war, gone largely into steamship lines between Europe and New-Orleans and other Southern ports. These investments have proved exceedingly profitable, and the next step of those speculators will be to take hold of the work of building Southern railroads.

LANDLORD AND TENANT CASES.—Mr. Justice JAMES delivered an important opinion yesterday, at Special Term of the Supreme Court, the principles governing which apply to a large number of similar causes now in litigation. The points involved are the respective rights and liabilities of landlords and tenants under circumstances where buildings are partially destroyed by fire. The lessee of the City Assembly Room property, which was greatly damaged by fire and water about a month since, prayed for an injunction restraining the owner of the buildings from demolishing them, by which action his lease would be forfeited, and asking that the proprietor of the premises should be compelled to repair them, in accordance with a clause in the lease relating to the contingency of a fire. The Judge refused to grant the injunction, on the ground that an order of such kind has no retroactive effect, and should be allowed or withheld upon the facts existing at the time of the application; and also because, even if the plaintiff were conceded to have a good cause of action for damages, all injuries that might arise to him could be computed and compensated for, while such would not be the defendant's position were he now restrained from prosecuting his rebuilding.

Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The weather yesterday afternoon and evening effectually prevented Signor BELLINI enjoying that recognition at the hands of the public which his merits deserve. The house was poorly attended, notwithstanding the attraction of MEYERBEER's "African." It did not indeed represent the seats sold previous to the change. No one will think the less of Signor BELLINI for this circumstance, and we mention it only because every one will sympathize with him at its inopportune occurrence. The opera was given, we need scarcely add, with spirit, Signor BELLINI distinguishing himself as heretofore by the vigor of his style and the admirable proportions of his voice.

To-night had been set apart for the benefit of Miss KELLOGG, but we are sorry to announce that New-York's favorite prima donna is so seriously indisposed that the occasion, and even the regular performance—have to be postponed. There will be no opera to-night. Tickets purchased for the representation will be exchanged for Monday evening or the money returned. On Monday evening we trust that Miss KELLOGG will be sufficiently restored to give her friends the opportunity which they desire of paying their respects to her. The postponement is most unfortunate, but it is gratifying to know that almost every seat in the house was sold before it was announced. The doctor's certificate will be found in our regular amusement column.

At the matinée on Saturday MOZART's "Don Giovanni" will be given. The same opera will be presented to our Brooklyn friends to-morrow night.

WINTER GARDEN.—To-day Mr. BOOTH gives his last "Hamlet" matinee. On Thursday "Richelieu" will be played also for the last time. This (Wednesday) evening Mr. TAYLOR takes his benefit.

MATINEE.—Mr. C. JEROME HOPKINS gives another matinee at Wallack's Theatre to-day. A select choir of orpheons will assist, and Mme. BRINCKERHOFF will sustain the leading soprano solos. The lady also produces a national hymn with the coöperation of the choir.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

The Commercial Navigation Company—An Amendment to the Metropolitan Police Law Relating to Richmond County—The Bill Regulating Fare on the Central Railroad—Final Passage of the New-York and Oswego Midland Railroad Bill—The Apportionment of Members Under the Census—A Spicy Debate in the Senate—The Free Pass Bill—The Dead-Lock in the Troy Common Council and the Bill to Break it.

ALBANY, Tuesday, March 20, 1866.

In the Senate this morning Mr. PIERSON introduced a bill for the incorporation of the Commercial Navigation Company, of the State of New-York, which names as corporators John A. Baxter, Russell W. Adams, Franklin Wright, Isaac Hall, Nathan G. Pond, James C. Jewett, William B. Avery, Francis B. Dane and Thomas M. Braine. The Company is to organize under the general law "for the incorporation of companies formed to navigate the ocean by steamships," passed April 12, 1852, with full power to own, equip and run vessels for the transportation and forwarding of merchandise, passengers and mails. The act does not disclose between what ports the Company's vessels are to run.

The bill relating to the Metropolitan Police of Richmond County, introduced by Mr. LA BAU, requires the Metropolitan Police Commissioners to make out an estimate of the expense of maintaining the police in the County of Richmond, and furnish the same to the Supervisors of that County, which amount, so estimated, shall be included in the annual tax levy of Richmond County.

The bill introduced simultaneously by Mr. PIERSON in the Senate and Judge SELDEN in the House, regulating fare on the New-York Central Railroad, is creating a good deal of discussion here, and there seems to be a purpose of passing it. It is claimed that there is a necessity for some temporary increase of fare to enable the Central to carry out certain contemplated plans for improving the road and rolling stock, so as to make it the greatest road in the country, so far as securing the comfort, convenience and safety of passengers is concerned. The great objection to the bill of last Winter was that it subjected people along the line of the road, principally traveling short distances, to pay an increased fare. This objection is removed in the bill now under consideration, for it is expressly provided that the mail and accommodation trains, stopping at all stations, shall carry passengers for the same rate as at present—two cents per mile. The increase applies to the express trains, carrying, for the most part, through passengers. If any man desires to travel for two cents per mile, he can take an accommodation train. If he desires to make greater speed, he pays in proportion, two and a half or three cents per mile, as the case may be. This is the shape in which the bill comes up, and it is said—I know not on what authority—that the Governor will not refuse his assent to a bill thus framed.

The bill to facilitate the construction of the New-York and Oswego Midland Railroad passed the House this morning. It had previously passed the Senate, and will become a law when signed by the Governor. There were but four dissenting votes to the final passage of the bill. It allows towns along the route to subscribe to the capital stock, and exempts the Company from taxation until the track is laid throughout the whole length of the road.

The Democratic members find considerable fault with the bill apportioning members of Assembly, reported by Mr. LITTLEJOHN, from the Committee on Apportionment. They claim that New-York should have one more member, and Kings another, but they will find, I think, according to the figures of the census, which is the only basis to go upon, that the apportionment is entirely fair and that no change can justly be made.

The staid dignity of the Senate was disturbed to-day by a very animated debate over the New-York and Brooklyn Passenger and Baggage Bill, incorporating a Company to convey passengers and their baggage at certain specified and moderate rates, thereby protecting the public from the extortions of hackmen and baggage-smashers.

H. C. MURPHY opposed the bill vigorously, and a running fire was kept up for a good part of the session between that gentleman and Mr. ANDREWS, both antagonists splintering lances in fine style, while Mr. GIBSON bore down heavily on MURPHY's left flank, and PIERSON assailed him on the right. It was altogether one of the most spirited and interesting debates of the session. The bill was finally recommitted to the Committee of the Whole. After being amended somewhat, it will undoubtedly pass.

The bill prohibiting any person from receiving a free pass over any railroad in the State was recommitted to the Committee of the Whole. The Senate manifests a disposition to pass this bill, which Senator STANFORD denounced as "an absurdity," but I need hardly say that it will be speedily slaughtered in the House.

Inasmuch as the Argus of this city, and at least one prominent journal of New-York, have misrepresented grossly a bill introduced in the House by Mr. THORN, to deprive the Mayor of Troy from voting in the Common Council except in case of a tie, a word of explanation of that bill is required. It is denounced, unfairly, as being a partisan scheme. The case stands thus: Including the Mayor, there are twenty-two members of the Common Council of Troy entitled to a vote. This is an even number, and now, as has happened once before in the history of the city, parties are equally divided, standing eleven against eleven. Hence all municipal affairs in the city are at a complete dead-lock. Nothing can be done in the Council; not a claimant can be paid; debts are accumulating against the city, and everything is in confusion. As the only practicable way of breaking this lock, it is proposed to make the Mayor a mere presiding officer, as in the case of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Senate. Thus there will be twenty-one members of the Council, and another dead-lock will be impossible—a majority can be obtained, and municipal affairs can go on again. This is all there is of it, and I see no reason why an attempt to enable the city to carry on its municipal affairs should be denounced as partisan. The bill, I presume, will become a law. PERSIMMON.

ASSEMBLY.

Mr. TUCKER, from the minority of the Committee on the Census and Apportionment, submitted the following:

The undersigned minority of the Select Committee of the Assembly on the Census and Apportionment, beg leave respectfully to dissent from that provision of the bill entitled "An act to apportion members of the Assembly among the several counties of the State reported from that Committee, which apportions two members to the County of Ontario, and nine members to the County of Kings. The undersigned submit that the County of Ontario should be awarded but two members and the County of Kings ten members. The undersigned insist that the only fair, proper and constitutional method of apportioning members of the Assembly among the counties of the State is to divide the total representative population, being 3,393,439, by the members, being 128. This division gives the ratio of 26,511¼ as the number of representative population entitled to a single member. By this compilation the County of Kings is entitled to nine members and a fraction of 14,850, and the County of Ontario to one member and a fraction of only 13,729. The member in dispute between the two should, therefore, be awarded to the County of Kings. (Signed)

Revolutions in the Rain—Courage Cooled by Spring Showers—Disgusting Condition of the Streets—War Rumors and Rumors of War Rumors—A Speech by Col. Bernard Devlin—The Run Upon the Banks—The Late Reciprocity Treaty, &c.

From Our Special Correspondent.

MONTREAL, Friday, March 16, 1866.

Cold water is a wonderful alleviator of nervous irritation. I remember to have seen, some eighteen years ago, a band of determined revolutionists in open air demonstration suddenly subside into the littleness of ordinary mortals by what the authorities no doubt supposed to be the judicious application of a shower-bath, unexpectedly administered from a neighboring hydrant by a hose and a handful of policemen. I am reminded of this incident by the soothing effect upon the nerves of the good people of Montreal and upon the martial ardor of their protectors, by the copious libation poured out by Providence all day yesterday and the night preceding.

The grand review which was to have called out, for exhibition, the entire fighting force of the city, was very prudently postponed; and the poor fellows who had had nightmares of drenched overcoats and rusty muskets, were permitted to awake to the appreciable comforts, on such a day, of barrack or of home.

The thaw seems to have set in determinedly, and its effects upon the ice-incrusted streets are woful. The underlying snow baked by traffic and by frost, is now cut into successive ruts and ridges at the intersections of the streets, through and over which the universal sleigh is driven with all the nonchalance of a driver accustomed to such dispensation, but to the terror and discomfort of the lover of the smoother ways of more southern cities.

I have had, I am impressed, several narrow escapes from dorsal injury during the past two days. This I managed by holding hard on to the seat at the critical junctures, having previously covered my arms well up with the rug. I thus preserved the integrity of my bony structure and my reputation for personal bravery, which latter must have considerably suffered with the driver if he had seen the affectionate way in which I clung to the cushion.

A word or two about fast horses; their pedigree and points usually assail your driver in his weakest point. Now they are monosyllabic in their replies to everything but Fenianism. Only talk Fenian to him, and he will whistle you "round the mountain," and refuse the fare.

Returning to my hotel last night from the drill at the armory, I instituted my accustomed dialogue with the "Son of Erin," who held the ribbons, in this fashion: "Well, what company do you belong to?" "Sorrah a wan, Sir." "How is that?" "Oh, nothin' at all, Sir, only I've got my dhrivin' to do; sure somebody must do the dhrivin'." "Quite true; but there may be trouble, you know—you may be wanted to fight and not wanted to drive." "Sure enough, that's so; but whin I was starvin' in Ireland I never tuk the shillin', an' I won't now! Whew! go on out o' that." I pushed inquiry no further in this direction, but held on firmer by the seat, Barney having vented his awakened ire in a stinger to the pacer.

A telegram from Ottawa yesterday confirmed the rumor of the previous day, that 15,000 more volunteers would be called out immediately. This, with the arrival of the New-York journals and their warlike news, rekindled our damped enthusiasm for a while, but it did not necessarily extend outside, for, as I have said, no ardor in the absence of the foe can flourish in a drenching.

The organization of the Home Guards is going on silently, and arms are being given to a large number. It has been whispered that the arming is somewhat sectarian in its character, but I understand that the Government determinedly discountenace anything like exclusiveness.

A rumor reached the city on Thursday evening that the two companies of the Prince of Wales' Regiment, which had been sent to the frontier, had crossed into the States, taking their arms with them. It was also rumored that the entire command of Col. DEVLIN had laid down their arms. The City Fathers met in accustomed session during the prevalence of this story, with all the gravity of demeanor, and profundity of thought peculiar to this civic functionary in every latitude. When the tale of disaffection was announced, and its truth asserted in fierce invective by a member of the Board, the assembled council gathered their aldermanic robes around them and fled the justice hall in consternation, even as did the Roman Senators, when BRUTUS stabbed, and cruel CASSIUS struck the fatal blow.

At the Victoria Armory last night Col. BERNARD DEVLIN (the distinguished lawyer) addressed his men and other regiments present on the subject of the alleged disaffection, showing that there was no foundation whatever for the malicious rumor by which it was sought to deprive him of his influence with the Irish Catholic population, and to kindle the flame of religious rancor among them, much more to be dreaded than were the Fenians. Nevertheless, it is an undisguisable truth that the repugnance of Irishmen to enlist as volunteers is great, and as a mine of military wealth in Canada, the Irish element is no longer worth the working. Mr. DEVLIN, in the course of his remarks, said:

MEN OF THE PRINCE OF WALES: You must all have heard, and with as much indignation as myself, the falsehoods so industriously circulated against the honor and the loyalty of the regiment to which you belong, and which I am proud to command. You must have heard these reports with as much indignation as I did, and I am certain you one and all indignantly denied them. It came upon me like a thunderbolt to hear that it had been publicly asserted that the company of the Prince of Wales sent on duty to Stanstead had refused to obey orders, had thrown down their arms, in fact had mutinied and gone over to the enemy. [Cries of "its false."] Yes, such an infernal falsehood has never been coined. You all know that our regiment is composed of Protestants and Catholics, and I unhesitatingly affirm that there is no regiment more remarkable for observance of order, attention, discipline and obedience to the laws of the land. [Loud cheers.] I say it distinctly that there have been fewer of our men brought before the tribunals of the country for infraction of its laws than can be boasted of by any regiment in the United States, in England, Ireland or Scotland. [Cheers.] You are men remarkable for good conduct, and your kindly feeling toward each other. [Cheers.] It is my proudest boast to be able this evening to say that were St. Patrick's Church in danger to-morrow, I could take Protestant soldiers and Protestant officers from among you to put down that danger, and I can stake my life they would perform their duty. ["We would, we would."] And again, I say, if the English Church was assailed it would be the same with the Catholic men of my regiment—they would be as brave and loyal, as faithful and true as if they were fighting for their own Church and their own altar. [Loud cheers.] This is the reputation, men, that you have borne for the last eight years—ever since I have had the honor of being connected with you. And yet we find sneaking cowards in the city—themselves afraid to shoulder the rifle—talking against you at the street corners, and trying to bring your good name, your courage and your loyalty into disrepute. [Sensation.] I am sure you are prepared to do your duty; if there is one man present who is not so, let him now come forward, give up his uniform and return his rifle. There is no response, and I was sure there would be none, to this demand of mine. [Cheers.] To my knowledge you have never repudiated legitimate authority, you have never refused to obey the commands of your superior officer, nor have you ever failed to recognize the laws of the land. It is too bad, then, to find a grave and venerable assembly like the City Council giving credence to the tales of fools and knaves, and actually adjourning last night because the story was afloat that you, men, were disaffected. [Sensation.] Yes! Councilor McCREADY, who proposed the motion, when asked for the reason of the adjournment, mysteriously replied that it would be injurious to the interests of the country to give the reason, [hisses,] and I, arriving a little late to take my seat, only heard that reason when the mischief was done. And what, think you, was it? Why, that you, men, were a body of traitors; that you had renounced your allegiance; and that I and sixteen of your number had been arrested and thrown into prison. [Indignation.] I tell you, men, if you hear these slanders repeated, and if you can lay your hands on the author, arrest him. You have a perfect right to do it. I shall hold your harmless, and will be responsible for the consequences. [Cheers.] I have an eye on two of the supposed originators of the scandal, and it is not unlikely I shall pay my respects to them before many days are over. If I do, you may depend upon it you will hear of it. [Cheers.] We force no men into our ranks, but we will not stand being maligned and abused even by this celebrated Home Guard which is talked of, where the husbands are going to nurse the babies, while the women go out and fight. [Sensation.] I express my gratitude to the Press of this city for denying the slanders circulated by the hypocrites who seek to traduce us. Montreal may rest assured it can impose the most implicit reliance on its volunteers; and it would be well if the bankers and wealthy merchants of the city, instead of talking so much, would practically show their good feeling toward us—would put their hands into their pockets, and prove by their contributions that they are really serious in encouraging the volunteer movement in the city. [Cheers.] This they have not done as yet, but it is never too late to mend. [Cheers.] I am just informed by my friend Col. Lyman that letters have been received from Stanstead giving a good account of our men, and stating that every word of the story concocted and circulated by blackguards is utterly false. [Tremendous cheering.] I was sure of this, but it makes me most happy to be able to give you the official contradiction of the calumny. I take a large and a deep interest in the honor and welfare of this command; an attack upon any man among you I consider a personal attack upon myself, and I will not be slow to meet any man who assails you. [Cheers.] And as for the City Council, I hope they will be taught wisdom by experience, and that the folly of last night will not be repeated until they are perfectly certain the country is in danger, and not rely for their information upon the lies which any common blackguard may choose to circulate. [Loud and long continued cheering.]

The run upon the banks, of which I wrote you, still continues. The savings banks have been considerably drained; the French people being as much alarmed in this particular as any other section of the citizens. Business with the regular banks grows no less difficult, and the withdrawal of deposits is sufficiently important to cause some uneasiness. Storekeepers are idle, the season, the weather, and the Fenians being all against them. Were it not for the un-Sabbath-looking and eager-talking groups around hotel doors and at street-corners—the occasional beat of a drum to a livelier air than we are accustomed to hear on such a day—and the frequent passing of sleds of produce and droves of horses—the city would wear an unexceptional Sunday look about it, the illusion being aided by the ever-moving stream of pious people going churchward, in observance of the devotions of the Lenten season.

Suggestions as to the possibility of serious injury to Canada from the abrogation of the treaty are pooh-poohed quite freely; but the evidences of uneasiness in anticipating the results are universal, and the frequent remark "that it will injure them just as much as it will us," is an index of a state of feeling which can be but cold comfort to its owner. It is pretty generally realized among all political sections of the people here, that a great crisis in Canadian affairs is close at hand, and sober, truth-confessing people disclose it freely. Under what heading shall this new chapter of her history be written?

The probable invasion of New-Brunswick was talked of yesterday, but with less agitation than the invasion of Lower Canada. This was suggested by sensational matter in the New-York papers, which are literally devoured upon their arrival here, and the least credible most credited.

The accessibility to attack of Sault Ste. Marie and Manitoulan Island by the Fenians of the Western States, was also the subject of the gravest contemplation and discussion. It was said that to take possession of these would be a matter of little difficulty, and when gained they could be made almost impregnable before an opposing force would be available. That there was there sufficient wealth in copper ore alone to raise a fleet upon Lake Michigan and equip an army.

But I shall not trouble you with any more of these day-mares of the fevered imaginations of the would-be peaceful people of Montreal. It seems to me the greatest pity in the world that an honest, industrious, praying population should have been the victims, as they have been, of imported literary demagogues who have not only stirred up much ill feeling between them and their neighbors, but have created political differences hitherto unknown among them; who misrepresent them in every line they write, abuse their hospitality, and defile the current of their thought by gross misrepresentation of the thoughts and acts of others. It is also to be regretted that retribution seeks them out so soon and falls with a hand so heavy, for however the twin evils of Fenianism and Abrogation may conclude, it is not to be hidden that the prospective presence of the one, and the immediate presence of the other, are evils of great magnitude, which throw a gloomy shadow toward the future of the colony.

To-night the regulars and volunteers remain barrack-sleeping on their arms. To-morrow the procession comes off, without hindrance it is hoped. Some of the regular service have received permission to attend it. The authorities are so far countenancing it that the probability of interference with it by the Orange faction is much lessened.

The rain has given place to snow during this morning, and as I write the snow is chased away by the first sunshine I have seen since I crossed the frontier ahead of the Fenians. The only Fenian positively known to be in this country is, they say, the correspondent of the New-York World, and he, poor fellow, it appears, was made one against his will by the sudden transfer, as reported, of his services to the Brotherhood with the proprietorship of the revolving organ which he represents. FIDES.

St. Patrick's Day in the Morning—Good Weather—The City Quiet—Some of the Rumors in Circulation—A Deposit in the Lion's Cage—Trade Very Dull—Starting the Procession.

From Our Special Correspondent.

MONTREAL, St. Patrick's Day, 1866—10 A. M.

There was a light frost last night, and this morning the streets are firm, and the atmosphere clear, pure, and inspiriting. The various societies which go to make up the grand procession of the day are at this time (10 o'clock) making for the rendezvous, passing quietly through the streets, preceded by their bands, playing Irish airs.

The city was much quieter yesterday evening, and there are at least, this morning, all the outside evidences of tranquillity. There were, of course, the accustomed contributions when the sun went down. The dark seems to be rumor's best ally. The most exciting of the creations of last night was a mysterious whisper that D'ARCY MCGEE had been called upon to resign. This story was so well received that the conclusion might be made that this gentleman begins to realize the difficulties of his part in his great study of the Anglo-Irishman.

The Custom-house officials are said to have captured yesterday, in transit, at Prescott, two cases, each containing 100 six-barrel revolvers. The cases were addressed Ottawa, nothing more.

It was also stated that a man had been arrested at Kingston, having in his possession a parcel suspiciously heavy, which, on being searched, was found to contain several thousand rounds of ammunition.

These two are the most reliable of a hundred such tales circulated from sunset to midnight; but there is one other of a different class which I think is worth the telling. Monsieur GILBEAULT is the great P. T. B. of Montreal, and a description of his menagerie and museum is always resorted to by people of few ideas when all that can be said about the weather has been said twice. Among other celebrities, there is also a respectable old Irish woman, who, with careful saving for a quarter of a century, has been enabled to amass the sum of $70 by gradual deposit in the savings bank. Of course, in the early days of the flurry, like a prudent capitalist, she withdrew her funds, but a new difficulty presented itself in her inability to find a place which she considered safe enough to place her all. Somebody suggested GILBEAULT as the least likely place to be attacked by the Fenians, or foes of any other color. She went to GILBEAULT and explained her case; he sympathized with her, and, taking charge of her purse, assured her that he was flattered by her confidence; that he should immediately place it in the lion's den, and that she might inform her friends who had no longer faith in the protecting powers of the British Lion, to come to GILBEAULT.

Notwithstanding that the excitement has considerably cooled down, trade grows worse daily. There has been an influx of Boston merchants, who, although fairly successful in making their collections, have been unable to do any business whatever. In fact, business is utterly prostrate; and should the F. F. Bs. continue to exercise the terrorism they do for three months to come, a novel and unexceptionable mode of accomplishing free trade and annihilating the Fenians, might be adopted.

A debt of eighty-five million dollars, and a prospective increase of at least half a million per month, promises a heavy burden for colonial shoulders, with barred gates upon the frontiers. Shall we throw down the gates, and share the burden, for our neighbor Kanucks will be knocking soon? Let them in—let them in.

> "And the good will bless, as they pass your door,
> The heart that feels for the suffering poor."

Two P. M.—The procession moves peaceably along. Father FANEL has bestowed his benediction on the congregated twenty thousand. The sunburst moves as triumphantly along the streets as if the breeze itself were Fenian; and admiring hundreds, with narrow-toed boots and whiskers pendulous, throng the footpaths on the line of march. No noisy cannon frights the nervous, and the icy shroud of the great St. Lawrence spreads out in all unsullied purity—untrodden by the feet of an invading foe, unstained by Fenian gore. FIDES.

From Our Special Correspondent.

MONTREAL, Sunday, March 18, 1866.

When I closed my letter yesterday the processionists were on their way from St. Patrick's Church, their hearts lightened, and their loyalty made rich by an exhortation from Father O'FARRELL, and a benediction which fell upon their spirits like oil on troubled waters.

From the church they marched to Great Saint James street, passing in order by the Saint Lawrence Hall—from a window of which it had been announced they would be addressed by the Governor-General, Lord MONCK. The procession, preceded by the band and men of the Prince of Wales Regiment, was comprised of the following societies: The Catholic Young Men, Temperance, St. Patrick Benevolent, members of the Congregations of Saints Patrick and Ann and the St. Patrick's Society. When this last named made its appearance the Governor-General stepped forward to the open window and addressed the patriotic multitude below. He told them first that he was an Irishman—at which there was, of course, tumultuous hallelujahs—then of their respectability, of their growing wealth, of their fine appearance in the procession, of his pride and happiness, of their unmistakeable loyalty, of his unbounded confidence, of their ability to defeat the purposes of bad designing men, and of the satisfaction it gave him, as Her Majesty's representative, to know that they were prepared to defend their property and their homes against the foes of religion and progress. A handsome speech enough for an Irishman, in whose empurpled veins is the unmitigated flow of Saxon blood, whose fair face, with its foxy fringe, bespeaks the Angle if not the angel. A fair, manly speech, indicative of good nature and good will, no doubt.

How did they like it down below? Oh, they seemed to take to it very well indeed. He was a Milesian, you know, for he said so. It was a great day for Ireland, entirely. Only think of it—a real Lord, and a Governor-General to boot, condescending to address an Irish society on St. Patrick's Day, with a big bunch of "shamrogues" in his button-hole! Long life to him! Why, the like of it is unknown since 1802, when Irishmen used to carry muskets, and had learned bravely how to use them, with an ugly look in their eyes, and their backs to the sun at his setting.

Was there no treason in all that crowd—no tongue-loosened traitors among them? Shame on you, Irishmen, that for once in your lives you could not be wholly loyal! Three cries for STEPHENS—smothered, 'tis true, but quite loud enough for the Fenians. Now three "rousin'" cheers for the Queen! What! do you smother that, too?

Having pronounced his speech like a lord, and delivered his bow like a gentleman, the Governor retired, and the processionists passed on to the Haymarket, where a stand had been erected. Here they were addressed by the President of the St. Patrick's Society, Lieut.-Col. DEVLIN, and by him exhorted to be peaceable, as the day demanded that they should be—a day of religious thanksgiving, and a memorable one to all true Christians. Mr. DEVLIN was followed by the Mayor, and by the Presidents of the various charitable societies of the city. The orator of the occasion, however, was Hon. D'ARCY McGEE. Need I write you of the effect of the eloquence of this modern Cicero—how he meandered, how he sparkled, how he leaped rhetorically over difficulties, how he foamed against obstacles, how he stirred up the Celtic blood to a frenzy of admiration for its own unadulterated flow, how he soothed it down with allusions to such sublunar things as property, and light taxation, and the liberty to say their prayers, which they enjoyed superlatively in this blessed land of their adoption? I thought he said adoption; but it might have been exile. Yes, I think it was exile, from the wealth of emotion in his utterance of the word. He must have felt it deeply, D'ARCY must, for they say that, if the Fenians should ever come to Canada, (which I pray Heaven they won't, for their own sakes, till it's warmer,) he would lay him down and die, as he has nowhere else to put his head now.

Great D'ARCY! I remember well, some eighteen years ago, when your home was in the hearts of your countrymen, the wide world over; when the fools of '48 had faith in the Fenians of that day; when the oily orators from the east came northward with their treason; when MEAGHER flung his thunderbolts at priests and potentates in the Government stronghold of Belfast, and how a wilier confederate chief than he did silently sow sedition in the club-rooms of the North. What then? Why, then—a hunted felon, as they thought you to be, poor fools, you could have bought their best hearts' blood amongst them with a kindly word; while now—a Minister of England—though you foam in forensic fury, you cannot raise an honest cheer! You told them of the dangerous men across the frontier—foes to religion and law—but they didn't look as if they were frightened, D'ARCY; and, although your metaphors were fine, and religion flowed from your mouth like oil, you didn't stir the crowd with all your power as did the humble priest an hour before. When you told these Irish Catholics that they owned two millions in real estate in Montreal—(you were always good on figures, D'ARCY)—that that property was imperiled, and they must fly to its protection or lose the wealth and power they had struggled for for years, there was no wild cry to arms like that which rung through Union-square, when the Irishmen of New-York were called to defend—and against their brothers, too—the land of their adoption, and the country of your sneers, D'ARCY.

Here there was a most alarming want of gallantry displayed, a most unusual charge, I know, to level against Irishmen, but the truth must out, let who will suffer. Nobody proposed three cheers for the Queen! There was some whispering on the platform, probably about something else, of course nobody would hesitate to propose the Queen, God bless her! but nobody did, and everybody talked about it afterwards, and, would you believe it, some people said they were afraid! How absurd! Think of being afraid with two thousand volunteers in Montreal, and eight thousand along the frontier. The Canadian frontier is only four thousand miles.

The crowd here separated, and the fear of an outbreak was over for the time. There were rumors at the telegraph office of a rising in Toronto, but the stories were prudently suppressed, as much trouble might have arisen, notwithstanding the smooth surface-look of things.

I have no doubt that the usual libations were poured out to the memory of the patron saint, but I saw no evidences whatever of intemperance, the day being observed throughout in a manner not the least unpleasant to outsiders, and doubtless most enjoyably to those who more closely participated in the demonstration. Yesterday was a sober day, in the widest sense of that comprehensive word.

The concert in the evening at the City Hall was looked forward to, as I wrote you, with considerable anxiety. The gathering was a large one, probably three to four thousand people, chiefly men.

For the first time since the institution of the St. Patrick's Society, (in 1834,) although its members were invariably invited, the Government was represented on the platform, not merely by an individual member, but by everybody who flourishes a government toothpick in the Canadian establishment, except Lord MONCK, and he had already contributed his share in the morning to the ovation to the pugnacious Irish element.

Let me give you "La crême de la crême" of the collection.

There were JNO. A. MACDONALD and G. E. CARTIER, the Attorney-Generals; T. D. MCGEE, the Minister of Agriculture; Hon. COBURN, Solicitor-General; Hon. HOWLAND, Inspector-General; Hon. MCFARLAN, a member of the Upper House; the Mayor of Montreal, and others of less note in this connection, but who not long ago would have refused either countenance or encouragement to the crowd, to which, yesterday they made obeisance. The band of the Twenty-fifth Regiment of Regulars had also been placed at the service of the Society, and were a credit to themselves and their regiment. No necessity for the expensive luxury of a GRAFULLA or a DODSWORTH when citizens are loyal and Governors are confiding and believe in it.

How Ministers applauded when "Patrick's Day" was played, and at everything else that was played or sung with the flavor of the sod about it; how they twiddled their thumbs and languished over "Ma Coleen dhas crucheen na Mo," and climaxed in convulsions at "Pat Malloy," you may imagine.

And so the day passed off quietly, and the bugaboo seventeenth has gone by with nothing spilt dearer than whisky, indulgence in which is economy to one who knows what a "skin's" worth in York.

FIDES.

A Day After the Fair—How Some People Kept St. Patrick's Night—Bugaboo and Rumor on the Rampage.

From Our Special Correspondent.

MONTREAL, Monday, March 19, 1866.

At noon yesterday, about 1,200 men met and formed in the market square and thence proceeded to the English Church. These were the volunteers, Protestants, now in arms here, with few exceptions, well drilled, good-looking fellows, having a most imposing appearance as they mounted the rather precipitous slope well up on the side of which the beautiful new building of the Episcopalians is situated. [The Catholic volunteers number about 1,000.] As with martial tramp they passed me by, their polished rifles looking wickedly in order, and apparently observant of my stove-pipe hat which has a Yankee brim on, I felt peculiarly all over, and mentally congratulated myself that I wasn't a Brigadier-General of Fenians.

The dispatch from Toronto, which no doubt has long since reached you, announcing the Fenian demonstration there and the speeches of MURPHY, &c., was received last night by one of the journalists here, and immediately communicated to the terrorists at the hotel. How many whisky-skins were made to suffer on the reading of the telegram asks for calculation over intricate for your correspondent, but there certainly would have been horrible butchery had SWEENEY or O'MAHONEY stepped in, for the oaths were awful, the threats were frightful, and the gnashing of teeth was as demonstrative of warlike purpose as anything I ever heard either at home or in Honolulu.

In their anxiety for their safety, the Government party make some strange mistakes, among them is one which, if persevered in, would be much more likely to lead to blood-letting in Montreal than are the Fenians. It is alleged that they are arming, or permitting to arm, the Protestant section of the community silently and exclusively as a home guard. This you will see alluded to in a speech of a prominent Catholic citizen. No proceeding could be more monsously absurd than this, as its first result will be to fling the French and Irish into one another's arms, thus making against them a heavily preponderating power.

You will thus see that while the Governor and Ministers are making speeches, and journalists are eloquent in their editorials, about the harmony which prevails, and of the unbounded confidence in the loyalty of all, there is really not a particle of confidence reposed in the Catholic Irish element.

I do not say that they are wrong in this conclusion. My own experience helps to bring me to the same depot; but I believe they make a very serious mistake indeed when, in their childish fear of the bugaboo on the border, they make invidious distinctions among their people.

On the night preceding St. Patrick's Day over a thousand Protestant families are said to have sat watching till the morning broke with arms in their hands prepared to receive their neighbors who were to come and butcher them; but they didn't. The belligerent Papist put on his holiday attire, stuck a shamrock in his button-hole and went his way to church, in procession or out of it, as peaceable a member of the community as he who sat in his chair all night with a revolver in either hand and a bowie-knife in his breeches pocket.

True, the Catholics are anti-British to a man, with an obnoxious leaning toward the Yankees, but they are not necessarily anti-Canadians. There is no sectarian intolerance whatever among them; they are a highly liberal and intelligent community, infinitely more so than their Catholic brothers were who burned the roof over the homeless negro in New-York. They have their weaknesses, nevertheless. One of these is to believe in, and send money to the support of, every project for the liberation of the "Sod," and another one is to give Columbia one more family to look after, as if she hadn't a troublesome brood of her own to keep quiet, poor woman.

Of these little sins they are by no means reticent, while on the contrary, on all occasions calling for an exhibition of their loyalty, they are doggedly silent. This is wicked, for it riles their neighbors, who are anti-Irish to a degree, and oh! so anti-Yankee.

There has been an effort made to form a battalion to protect the Grand Trunk Railway. The Irish have refused to join, and over a hundred of them have been discharged the service of the Company.

This is the latest item.

Financial Condition of the Country—The Foreign Debt—What It Costs to Change a Republic to an Empire.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, March 20.

The friends of the Mexican Republic have printed and are circulating a statement of the aspect of the question, based on the comparative financial condition of the country under republican and monarchical rules. It shows the total foreign debt, as recognized in 1862, to be near $82,000,000, less than $3,000,000 of which is due to French, nearly $9,500,000 to Spanish, and the remainder to English subjects. While the annual expenditures of the Republic, as established by Congress in 1861, is stated at $11,000,000, those of the so-called Empire are said to be nearly $50,000,000. It is further asserted that, in addition to the $150,000,000, as the amount of the public loans put out for MAXIMILIAN in France and taken by French subjects, and for which LOUIS NAPOLEON is morally responsible, there have been expended from the public revenues of France up to the end of the year 1865, in this attempt to propagate monarchial institutions on the American Continent, $150,000,000 more.

The frigate was towed to the Norfolk Navy-yard this morning, where she is to be fitted out as a cruising vessel for the midshipmen of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The fisheries on the North Carolina sounds are said to be in full operation, and there are good prospects of an abundant supply of herring the coming season.

BROOKLYN ART ASSOCIATION.

Twelfth Reception—A Great Crowd—Beautiful Pictures—Admission Free To-day and To-morrow.

The Twelfth Reception of the Brooklyn Art Association was held last evening, at the Assembly Rooms of the Academy of Music. Saint Patrick's Day is not more certain to bring a rain-storm than are the reception nights of this popular and useful body. But cold, bleak and dismal as were the streets, it is rare that one can find a more signally brilliant gathering than that which thronged the elegant hall on this occasion. The walls were hung with many choice and beautiful pictures, but he was indeed fortunate, who, able to withdraw his attention from the galaxy of beauty and fashion upon the floor, could obtain even a glimpse of the works of art upon the wall. The officers of the Association and the Committee of Reception added to the multitude of lookers-on, and the consequence was that every one put off a careful and critical enjoyment of the exhibition until a more convenient season.

The gem of the collection is the last, and many think the best work of the skillful President of the Association, GIGNOUX. It is called "Glimpse of Mont Blanc," and appears to be a happy composition from reminiscent studies obtained while the artist dwelt among the Alpine Mounts. Mont Blanc in all its majesty looms proudly up from the companionship of glorious fellows—clear, distinct, faithful to the outline suggested to the memory of every Alpine traveler. A close swarded plateau leads from the base of the mountains to the verge of a deep chasm, whose terrible depths, fringed with stunted firs, lined with rugged rocks, and black with absolute extent, send forth the hazy atmosphere so peculiar to those cavernous gorges, so beautiful when brightened by the rays of the early sun. The picture is destined to live as a historic portrait of the wonderful pile whose beauties are sung in verse by every tongue and chronicled by pencil in every land. The fortunate possessor has kindly consented to its exhibition at the Artists' Fund, when our New York connoisseurs who are already familiar with its "studio face" can have opportunity to renew their pleasure. A lengthened notice of the picture would be most infelicitous if based on any data afforded by the hasty glance granted us last evening; suffice it to say that as a composition it is most happy, as an evidence of skill in treatment of atmosphere and mountain scenery it is the most successful of GIGNOUX's works, and as a felicitous blending of the poetry of feeling with the rough actualities of portraiture it is thoroughly admirable.

Referring our readers to the collection as a whole, and indicating the utter impossibility of particularizing, we refer to a few of the pictures that we were able to peep at through the crowds before them:

No. 28.—To the Rescue—DE HAAS. This is one of the finest, most spirited of DE HAAS' many successes. It is from the choice collection of Mr. HOEY, and well deserves the prominent position given it in the gallery.

No. 8.—Portrait of Mayor Wood—FISHER. As a portrait, No. 8 is excellent. It has an Elliotian background, which well sets off the dark features of the gallant Colonel.

No. 12.—Vase of Roses—GRANBERRY. Faithfully drawn and exquisitely colored.

No. 26.—Lake George in Midsummer—BARROW. Quite as tempting as the original, but much cooler and quiet in color.

No. 34.—The Adirondack—J. WILLIAMSON. The specialty of this artist has hitherto been the painting of fruits and flowers. In this exhibition he appears to great advantage as a landscapist. This reminiscence of the Adirondack in Autumn is a choice conception admirably expressed. No. 31, by the same artist, will be recognized at once by all who are familiar with the lines of Lake George, as a perfect picture of Rogers' Slide and Anthony's Nose. The tranquil lake stretches smoothly out from the base of the mountains, relieved by the abrupt acclivity and rugged granite of its grand and notable barriers.

No. 150.—Wild Flowers—DIETRICH. This is the most exquisite in color, most faithful in detail of the smaller pictures.

No. 143.—A Study in Switzerland—R. GIGNOUX. Evidently originally sketched near Lake Lucerne. A choice composition with rare sky effect.

No. —Portrait—HUNTINGDON. The artist has succeeded better in preserving on canvas the features of one of Brooklyn's celebres than did his predecessors. A beautiful picture must of course be the result when such a subject is granted such an artist, but as a portrait it is not a success.

Nos. 108, 109, 110—Moonlight, Lake George, The Bull—LOWBER. These are mainly noticeable because painted by an amateur, one of Brooklyn's best known and most public-spirited citizens. As such they attracted great attention, and justly merited more than favorable notice.

No. 111—Portrait—HUNTINGDON. What was said of this artist's other portrait above applies here. With such a subject he could not fail to make a charming picture; he should have made a better portrait.

No. 165—Portrait—LE CLEAR. The jovial countenance of the venerable District-Attorney is well portrayed. The pose of the head is eminently characteristic.

It was very evident that hours might pleasantly and profitably be passed in the gallery if the crowd could be diminished one-half; but in the state of the room at 10 o'clock it was simply impossible to see anything but people.

THE OFFICERS

for 1865-6 are as follows:

President—REJIS GIGNOUX.
Vice-President—E. S. Mills.
Treasurer—G. L. Ford.
Secretary—John Williamson.

It will interest the general public to know that this collection of paintings, comprising many of the choicest gems from private galleries and studios, will be open through to-day and to-morrow, and also in the evenings, free of charge.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—Another vacancy occurs in the ranks of our useful and benevolent men, occasioned by the death of ISRAEL RUSSELL, one of our oldest, most useful and philanthropic citizens. He died of paralysis at his residence in this City on Monday morning. He was born in Morristown, New-Jersey, in 1790, and was consequently 76 years of age. He came to this City when he was 17 years of age, entered in to business, and soon became an enterprising merchant. During his lifetime he identified himself with the Institution of the Deaf and Dumb, the House of Refuge, the New-York Prison Association, and with the Board of Education. He was known in connection with other organizations of useful and philanthropic character. He was a member of St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church (Rev. Dr. TYNG's.) He retired from business about ten years ago, and devoted himself to works of benevolence. His loss is deeply lamented by a large circle of friends, while the community have reason to mourn the void thus made in the phalanx of the good and exalted.

FATAL KEROSENE OIL ACCIDENT.—During Monday evening, BERTHA AUSPACHEN, aged 12 years, residing with her mother at No. 553 Fifth-street, was undressing a younger sister for bed by the light of a kerosene lamp. The lamp began to burn dimly, when the child shook it and let it fall. The oil ignited in consequence, and BERTHA was enveloped in a sheet of flame. She then ran down stairs, screaming for help, followed by her mother, who caught her, and threw a woolen shawl around her burning dress, but she broke away and ran wildly about the house until some neighbors came in and extinguished the flames. A physician was called in, who found that the child's body was severely burned, and that there were internal injuries beside. Death put an end to the little girl's torture before morning. Coroner Gover held an inquest yesterday, and a verdict of accidental death was recorded.

BONDS GOING TO EUROPE.—Among the passengers for Europe, by to-day's steamer, is Mr. W. L. BANNING, of St. Paul, Minn., President of the Lake Superior and Mississippi Railroad Company. Mr. B. takes out bonds to the amount of $4,500,000, for sale in the European capitals. These bonds, which the bears in a little wooden box, securely sealed within a tin lining, are four thousand five hundred in number, and have already paid the Government $4,500 stamp duty. Mr. B. goes armed with maps and voluminous statistics concerning the tracts of country through which the L. S. &M. Railroad line passes, and he has no doubt of the ready sale of the bonds.

NOT DEAD YET.—In yesterday's TIMES a paragraph was published, stating that MICHAEL MANNING, who was cut in the wrist by ANTHONY LONG, in Park-street, on Saturday evening, had died from hemorrhage at Bellevue Hospital. It now appears that MANNING is not dead, although it was so reported to the Police by some of his friends. The Sergeant in charge at the Sixth Ward Station-house, believing the statement, notified the Coroner of the presumed fact. MANNING is rapidly recovering, and will be discharged from hospital in a few days.

BURGLARS OPERATING ON A SAFE.—About 1 o'clock yesterday morning, the real-estate office of WILLIAM E. BRINCKERHOFF, at No. 96 Avenue C, was entered by burglars, with skeleton keys. After gaining an entrance, the thieves drilled six holes in the safe door, round the lock, and inserted a quantity of gunpowder and a fuse, which they were about igniting when the approach of Officer MCCULLOUGH, of the Eleventh Precinct, disturbed their operations, and they made good their escape.

LECTURE.—Rev. A. A. WILLETTS, D. D., will deliver his lecture on "Sunshine," in the Fifth-avenue Baptist Church, corner of Forty-sixth-street, on Thursday evening, 22d inst., commencing at 8 o'clock precisely.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

THE GERMAN CONFIDENCE WOMAN.—The woman, LOUISE KLINE, who was some time since arrested on the charge of swindling several persons out of money and female wearing apparel, was brought before Justice CORNWELL yesterday afternoon for examination. The court-room was crowded, and much interest was manifested in the proceedings by those present. The accused, it appears, called at the houses of Germans, and, representing that she lately came from the old country with information from their friends, generally succeeded in obtaining money and some articles of clothing. She thus accumulated a considerable stock. Capt. BROWN and Sergt. WILLIAMS, of the Forty-eighth Precinct Police, collected a large number of shawls, &c., at different pawn-shops, all of which were exhibited in the court-room, and for which there appeared between twenty and thirty claimants. The evidence was overwhelming, and the accused was committed to await the action of the Grand Jury on the charge of larceny.

TRIAL FOR MURDER.—THEODORE YATES was yesterday placed on trial in the Kings County Court of Oyer and Terminer, for the murder of Policeman CHARLES CURRAN. The prisoner was tried once before on the same indictment, convicted and sentenced to be hanged. A new trial was applied for and granted, and now he is arraigned for the second trial. The accused, as alleged, shot Mr. CURRAN, who was attempting to arrest him on the charge of felony, on the evening of the 1st of October, 1864. The deceased died in consequence of the wound some days thereafter. A jury was empanneled and several witnesses on behalf of the prosecution were examined when the court adjourned until this morning.

BIGAMY.—Mrs. MARIA DONNELSON, a woman about 24 years of age, was yesterday arraigned before Justice WALTER, on a charge of bigamy, preferred by the husband whose name she bears. It is alleged that the woman had been previously married in Oneida County to a man named KIMBALL; that KIMBALL went to the war, and while absent the defendant married DONNELSON without informing him of her previous marriage. The case was adjourned to Thursday next.

GRAND FAIR AT THE LEE-AVENUE CHURCH.—A grand fair and social entertainment by the Lee-avenue Sabbath School commences this afternoon and will last two days. The arrangements are very extensive, and a newspaper will be issued each day with details of the affair by the Managing Committee. Among the attractions are to be a Dutch wedding, a Dutch kitchen, a fish-pond and a post-office. There will also be vocal and instrumental music.

A MASONIC TEMPLE IN BROOKLYN.—The different Freemason Lodges of Brooklyn have decided to purchase a site and erect a building to be used for Masonic purposes. At a meeting held recently, it was ascertained that nearly, if not all, the Lodges favored the movement. The building is designed to be an honor to the city and a credit to the fraternity. The arrangements will shortly be completed.

A NEW POLICE STATION-HOUSE.—The new station-house for the Forty-ninth Precinct Police has been completed, and will be thrown open for public inspection this afternoon and evening. A band of music will be in attendance. The house is located in Gates-avenue, near Marcy-avenue, built of brick and fitted up finely in every respect.

THE LANDS OF THE COMPANY

consist of Twelve Hundred acres, at Reno, on the Allegheny River, in Venango County, Pennsylvania—THE HEART OF THE OIL DISTRICT IN THAT STATE.

ONE THOUSAND WELLS
CAN BE SUNK UPON THE PROPERTY WITHOUT INTERFERENCE.

Test wells have been sunk on the Estate, and Oil found in paying quantities in every instance. FIFTY WELLS are now being put down to be followed by others as rapidly as possible to the extent necessary to fully develop the property. One hundred wells yielding only ten barrels a day each at $6 a barrel, a price much below the average price at Reno, would give one million eight hundred thousand dollars a year of income, making a profit of probably fifteen per cent. over expenses and taxes of every kind. If large flowing wells are found, a single acre of the territory may yield the entire capital within two years.

The Company owns the Town of Reno, together with several hundred lots for business and dwelling houses. There is an extensive demand for them, and the revenue from their sale will be very great.

THE STOCK IS GUARANTEED.

The price of the Stock has been fixed at ONE HUNDRED AND FIVE DOLLARS per Share. Five Dollars go into the Treasury of the Company as a contribution to the Working Fund. THE PAR VALUE OF THE STOCK, ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS, IS PAID TO THE TRUSTEES, TO BE DEPOSITED IN THE TREASURY OF THE UNITED STATES, OR INVESTED IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, AND MAY BE WITHDRAWN BY THE STOCKHOLDER AT ANY TIME.

By the payment of Ten Dollars, persons that desire to await the result of the First Year's Development, can secure the right of obtaining A FULL PAID SHARE OF GUARANTEED STOCK for One Hundred Dollars Additional, at any time before the 1st Day of April, 1867.

☞ It is an Investment with the Chances of Large Profit and IS ALWAYS CONVERTIBLE INTO CASH AT PAR. It might be called

IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC!
DR. VON EISENBERG'S
ÆSTHETICO-NEURALGICON,
THE CELEBRATED APPARATUS.

From the New-York Express.

So many able and earnest men are devoting themselves to medical investigation, that it would be strange if new discoveries were not made. Among the most brilliant of these—we may indeed say the most brilliant of all—is that of Dr. VON EISENBERG, in regard to the Etherealization of Medicines; we may properly call it the "Spiritualization," since the Latin Spiritus, whence comes our word "Spiritual," signifies primarily, simply "the air."

Many of the most important and vital organs of the human frame cannot be reached by medicines in a solid or even in a liquid form. Thus the lungs are shut up in a bony chest to which access can be had only through the wind-pipe, the opening of which is closed by a valve, called the "epiglottis," so sensitive and so delicately constructed, that it will not allow the passage, except by main force, of the most minute crumb, or the smallest drop of liquid. Every person who has "swallowed the wrong way" the smallest substance, whether of liquid or solid, knows the feeling of strangulation thereby occasioned. A man cannot, if he would, voluntarily swallow any liquid or solid into the lungs, or the passage leading to them. Herein lies the true reason why Consumption has been so incurable.

As to the entire apparatus, we have no hesitation in saying that we regard it as a wonderful invention—one that, were it not so costly, we have little doubt would be adopted by every hospital and medical college in the country. We are satisfied it would well repay, even if he had to journey all the way from Europe, the scientific man to see and examine it. It is a marvel of mechanical complexity, and yet, when its multiform uses are considered, of extreme simplicity and great beauty. That it will in every respect fulfill the expectations of the inventor, we have every reason to believe. It has been constructed with an accurate knowledge of its ultimate uses. One so experienced in the specialties for which it is particularly intended as is Dr. Von Eisenberg, and for which he has long felt the necessity in his practice, could make no failure. With it he is enabled to surmount obstacles that were hitherto deemed all but impossible to control. He can now approach with certainty and diagnose thoroughly every disease that, in the course of his extended practice, he aims to master. To those, therefore, who are in any way afflicted with loss of sight or hearing, with catarrh, bronchitis, chest or lung diseases, we earnestly suggest a visit to the consulting apartments of Dr. VON EISENBERG. There he will be speedily made to know the possibility of a cure in even complicated cases. We hereto observe that the apparatus is intended also to bring the etherealized medicines into direct action upon the nerves. The nervous system is the source of many diseases. All physicians admit this, and all profess at least to be able to apply a remedy. The Allopathic, Homeopathic and Hydropathic, by prescribing opiates, anodynes, &c., may, and do, alleviate the pain arising from impaired or diseased nerves; but this does not restore the nerve, it is only temporary relief—a relief, too, to some one nerve at the expense of the entire system. The Æsthetico-Neuralgicon of Dr. Von Eisenberg not merely allays the irritation, but restores the nerve to its normal condition. The Doctor's theory is, that each nerve has a specific office, and has its own peculiar susceptibility. Thus, for example, the nerve of vision is insensible to touch; and, on the other hand, the nerve of touch is insensible to light, and so on through the whole system.

From the Journal of Commerce.

We think it is but just to Dr. Von Eisenberg to call public attention to him. There are hundreds in the community suffering from catarrh, if not actually praying for death, who are ready to accept of anything that promises to relieve them from their distresses. To such we would say, trifle not with inexperienced men, but consult, without unnecessary delay, Dr. Von Eisenberg, who, at least, has the honesty to assure his patients whether it is in his power to make them whole or not.

HEARING RESTORED BY A SINGLE APPLICATION OF THE ÆSTHETICO-NEURALGICON.
READ! READ!

NEW-YORK, May 4, 1865.

I have been induced, by the great number of certificates continually published in favor of Dr. Von Eisenberg's skill, to apply to him for advice concerning my deafness of many years' standing. I placed myself under his care, and to my utmost delight he made me hear perfectly well by a single painless application of Dr. Von Eisenberg's "Æsthetico-Neuralgicon." I have great pleasure in being able to state that his skill in restoring hearing surpasses anything I ever saw or heard of. His attention to the patient is highly commendable.

JOHN WAKELY, No. 104 Monroe-st.

MIRACULOUS CURE OF THE CHRONIC CATARRH, ASSUMING THE FORM OF CONSUMPTION.

I have been suffering for a long time from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, and a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting of blood. I have been treated by many eminent physicians without success. Recently the Catarrh became so offensive that I could not go into society. Hearing of DR. VON EISENBERG'S new invention, I thought I would apply to him as a last resource. Having been satisfied with his diagnosis, I submitted to his treatment, and have every reason to be abundantly satisfied, as I am completely cured, and my health so much renovated that I feel better than I felt for the last fifteen years. It is a blessing that experience gives the Doctor the power to restore such a shattered constitution to perfect vigor. I now feel very happy to be able to give this testimonial in favor of Dr. Von Eisenberg's inimitable skill.

FREDERICK DOUGLAS,
Meserole-av.,
Greenpoint, Long Island.

RESTORATION OF SIGHT.

I, Lawrence Grenna, No. 186 East 36th-st., New-York City, have been suffering from blindness of the left eye for a considerable period. The eye was continually in a state of great inflammation, from which the good eye became affected, and, indeed, my general health was greatly injured by it. Hearing of Dr. Von Eisenberg's great reputation, and as every one said mine was a hopeless case, I called on the Doctor, who, after examining me, undertook my case, and within a fortnight I found myself almost completely cured. It is now a month since I placed myself under Dr. Von Eisenberg's treatment, and I am happy to be able to state that the inflammation is entirely gone, so that I see perfectly with both eyes, added to which I am in good health—a blessing I have not enjoyed since I was blind. I do conscientiously and gratefully swear to the above statement, in a court of justice, at the City Hall of the City of New-York, the 10th day of October, 1864.

LAWRENCE GRENNA.

Sworn before me this 10th day of October, 1864.

TRIBUTES TO THE "TRIBUTE BOOK."

The publishers have received the following:

FROM ANDREW JOHNSON, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

"The information contained in the TRIBUTE BOOK is of great interest, and the beautiful manner in which it is bound is highly creditable to the enterprise and success of your efforts as publishers."

FROM HON. JOHN BIGELOW, UNITED STATES MINISTER IN PARIS.

"Your TRIBUTE BOOK is a beautiful and precious monument of patriotism.

"I doubt if the world has ever witnessed such a demonstration of warm-hearted devotion to country and humanity as Mr. Goodrich has so conveniently embalmed.

"It will be henceforth, I hope forever, one of the ornaments of the library of this Legation."

FROM JOHN BRIGHT, M. P.

ROCHDALE, 15th Nov., 1865.

"DEAR SIRS: I write to thank you for remembering me and for sending me your handsome work, the TRIBUTE BOOK, the great record of the wonderful doings of your people during your great struggle. I think no other nation can produce such a record of patriotic efforts and sacrifices in any cause, and it will remain forever a matter of pride for your children in future times."

FROM MRS. ABRAHAM LINCOLN, CHICAGO.

"It will always be retained and cherished in the family with grateful feelings. A faithful illustration of the generosity and gratitude of our country toward the patriotic soldiers who so nobly fought in our defence."

The New-York Evening Post says:
"It is the story of seventy millions of dollars."

The Boston Journal says:
"It is full of interest, beauty and real splendor."

The New-York Herald says:
"In many eyes the book doth share the glory."

"The Philadelphia Bulletin says:
"It is absolutely magnificent."

The New-York Independent says:
"It is a volume of exceeding splendor."

The Philadelphia Telegraph says:

"It defies flattery and competition."

The Philadelphia North American says:

"It is a noble testimony to Christian patriotism."

The Publishers' Circular and Literary Gazette says:
"It is a trophy of the book-making art."

The Boston Transcript says:
"It is most desirable to own and prize."

The New-York Evangelist says:
"It is well worth the price asked for it."

The New-York Observer says:
"It was fitting that the story of those who at home sustained the Government in its life-struggle should be put on lasting record. Not they only who go to the battle-field are the defenders and saviours of their country. The women and the men who give their labor, their time and their money to the cause, who work and pray and send, who think of the sick and wounded and dying, and supply the hospitals and camps with food and medicines and the bread of life, these are entitled to the grateful memories of posterity, and the hearty commendations of their compatriots. It was a happy thought to embalm these patriotic works in one magnificent volume, a record of the voluntary offerings of the American people to the cause of their beloved country in the hour of its deadly peril."

The TRIBUTE BOOK is prepared with fidelity and impartiality, and the result is honorable to the philanthropic and religious character of the people. The mechanical execution challenges criticism. A large quarto, on the purest paper, combining elegance with durability, it is in all these respects, and every other, worthy of the illustrious object it is designed to commemorate. As it is published only by subscription, we doubt not that it will for many years to come be the crowning ornament and treasure of thousands of patriotic households in our happy land, rejoicing in peace and the restoration of a disturbed and beloved union."

THE TRIBUTE BOOK contains five hundred and twenty pages royal octavo, printed on fine tinted paper, and is illustrated by one hundred and fifty engravings. It is bound in Turkey morocco, gilt edges and sides, in the best style of workmanship. The book is sold EXCLUSIVELY BY SUBSCRIPTION, at the reasonable price of TWENTY DOLLARS.

FIRE DEFIED!!

OLEAN, Jan. 31, 1866.

Messrs. Valentine & Butler:

GENTS: The fire-proof qualities of your Alum Patent Safes were thoroughly tested on the 17th inst., at which time our warehouse was destroyed by fire. The books came out with the binding injured only; a Government bond and bank bill perfect. In the same fire were several safes of other makers, in some of which all the contents were burned or so much injured as to be useless; and none of the safes stood the TEST AS WELL AS THAT MADE BY YOU. ALTHOUGH IT WAS EXPOSED TO A HOTTER FIRE than the others, and for a longer time.

Respectfully yours,
C. V. B. BARSE.

THOUSANDS ARE TIMELY SAVED BY Dr. KENNEDY'S skillful and improved treatment.—Private diseases cured in the shortest possible time by Dr. KENNEDY & CO., No. 195 Elm-st., New-York, without the use of mercury, loss of time or change of die. Dr. KENNEDY, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. KENNEDY, No. 195 Elm-st. Call, send or write.

STATE OF NEW-YORK—CITY AND COUNTY OF NEW-YORK, ss.—The undersigned, the President and two-thirds of the Directors of the BOND VEIN COAL COMPANY do hereby certify: That, under the corporate name of the "Bond Vein Coal Company," this corporation was organized Oct. 26, 1864, pursuant to the provisions of an act entitled "An act to authorize the formation of corporations for manufacturing, mechanical or chemical purposes," passed Feb. 17, 1848, and of the several acts extending and amending said act. The objects for which the Company is organized are the mining and selling of coal and the transaction of business in pursuance of the above object. The amount of the capital stock was fixed at thirty thousand dollars in the original certificate of incorporation, and on the 6th day of May, A. D. 1865, it was increased by vote of stockholders to fifty thousand dollars, and the certificates required by law were duly filed, and the amount of the capital stock now is fifty thousand dollars. The term of existence of said company is twenty years from the 26th day of October, A. D. 1864. The number of shares of which the entire stock now consists is five thousand, and the number of trustees who manage the concerns of said Company is five, and the names of those elected for the present year are Benjamin W. Blanchard, Wm. R. Barr, Stephen D. Caldwell, Joseph W. Guppy and Andrew McF. Davis. The said Company was formed for the purpose of carrying on some part of its business out of the State of New-York, namely at Lafayette, McKean County, Pennsylvania, and the names of the town and county stated in the original certificate of incorporation as those in which the principal part of the business of the Company within this State is to be transacted, are the City of New-York in the County of New-York. We further certify that at the annual meeting of said Company, held in New-York, Jan. 9, 1866, which was regularly called as required by law, it was voted by stockholders representing two-thirds of the stock, to remove the principal office of the Company to Carrollton, and to establish a branch office in the City of New-York.

We therefore do hereby certify that the names of the town and county in which the principal part of the business of the Company within this State is to be transacted, are Carrollton, in the County of Cattaraugus, and a branch office is to be opened in the City of New-York County of New-York.

"BENEFIT OF THE DESTITUTE CHILDREN OF THE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS OF THE WAR."—Mr. EDWIN BOOTH, the distinguished tragedian, will, immediately preceding the close of his present engagement, give a matinee at the Winter Garden on the 24th of March, P. M., for the benefit of the institution in 58th-st. for the support of the destitute children of the soldiers and sailors who have been killed in our recent struggle for the Union. The play will be one in which Mr. Booth has not appeared during the present season. As the proceeds will be devoted to aid the ladies of the institution in their efforts to increase their building that they may meet the incessant demands made upon them for the support of the orphans of the brave men who have fallen upon the battle-field and the ocean, they trust that the citizens of New-York will respond in a spirit evincing their sense of this national obligation.

STEINWAY & SONS' GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT PIANOFORTES

Have taken thirty-two First Premiums Gold and Silver Medals, at the principal fairs held in this country within the last ten years, and in addition thereto they were awarded a First Prize Medal at the Great International Exhibition in London, 1862, in competition with 269 Pianos from all parts of the world.

That the great superiority of these instruments is now universally conceded is abundantly proven by the fact that Messrs. Steinway's "scales, improvements and peculiarities of construction" have been copied by the great majority of the manufacturers of both hemispheres (as closely as could be done without infringement of patent rights) and that their instruments are used by the most eminent pianists of Europe and America, who prefer them for their own public and private use, whenever accessible.

STEINWAY & SONS direct special attention to their PATENT AGRAFFE ARRANGEMENT, which, having been practically tested in all their Grand and highest priced Square Pianos, and admitted to be one of the greatest improvements of modern times, will hereafter be introduced in every piano manufactured by them without increase of cost to the purchaser, in order that all their patrons may reap its benefit.

STEINWAY & SONS' PIANOS are the only American instruments exported to Europe in large numbers, and used in European concert rooms.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE NEW COUNTY COURT-HOUSE.

Evidence of Mr. Underhill, Benjamin N. Judson, John Edwards and Supervisor Stewart—The Evidence All In—Mr. Ely's Opinion of the Committee.

The Investigating Committee met at 3 P. M. yesterday, Mr. Fox presiding.

Mr. James W. Underhill deposed as follows: I am a member of the Committee which had in charge the building of the new hall for the Board of Brokers; it cost about $475,000; the iron cost about half of that; Mr. Kellum was the architect; his compensation was three per cent. on the cost of the building; Messrs. J. & W. Cornell did the iron work; we got two estimates only; we invited from firms to send in bids; we gave the contract to the lowest bidder; the contract was carried out to our satisfaction.

Cross-examined by Mr. Anthon—The contract was made in the Spring of 1863; we had no superintendent of the work beside Mr. Kellum; the firms invited to bid were the Cornells, Geo. R. Jackson & Co., Atmouse & Co., and Groves; I directed the architect to whom to send to invite bids.

Mr. Benj. N. Judson deposed—I am an iron dealer doing business at No. 457 Water-street; iron advanced during the war about two hundred and fifty per cent.

Mr. John Edwards deposed—I own a marble quarry; I made bids for the basement of the new Court-house in 1861; in September, 1863, the same work would have cost from $3 to $4 per foot; I quit quarrying in the Spring of 1863.

The Chairman said it had been asserted that the Committee had denied Mr. Ely the right of putting Mr. Stewart, of the New Court-house Committee on the stand. He wished to say that Mr. Stewart was ready to be examined.

Mr. Ely said he would request that Mr. Stewart be put on the stand when all the other evidence was in.

Mr. Cram said he would rest his case here, several of his witnesses being absent, but would reserve the right of proving what is the customary compensation to superintendents of buildings.

Supervisor Wm. R. Stewart, of the New Court-house Committee, was then put on the stand.

Mr. Anthon said he did not wish to examine him.

The witness then deposed as follows: The ordinary rate to Superintendents of the construction of buildings is from ten per cent. upwards; Mr. Tucker gets five per cent.; he was appointed in June, 1865; it was intimated that if he got a percentage he would feel greater interest in the work than if he got a salary, and would have the building completed quicker; the building was then going up very slowly; Mr. Tucker has pushed the work on very rapidly during the working months; the building was under the charge of a Commissioner from January, 1861, to January, 1863; little or nothing was then done until August or September; the question was in litigation as to who should take charge; this litigation caused a delay of sixteen months; the Commissioners did but little after 1862; since the war laborer's wages have increased from $1 to $2 50 per day; mechanics from $2 to $4 and $4 50; stonecutters from 14 shillings to $3 50 per day; brick has advanced from $4 to $15 per thousand; cement from 95c. to $2 40; everything was advancing in price in 1863; the compensation for first-class architects is from 3 per cent up to 5; the contract for large marble was given out at $5 per foot; it was the same sized marble that Mr. Maxwell estimated for at $7 per foot; in a cubic foot of brickwork there are 21 bricks; the estimates of Mr. Maxwell for marble were higher than the estimates of the parties who got the contract; I am a practical builder; have been in business 21 years.

Cross-examined by Mr. Anthon—In 1861 the compensation of Mr. Tucker was about $3,000 per year; he afterwards got $5,000; the compensation was increased by the Committee; he remained on a salary of $3,000 for nearly two years; his salary continued during the suspension of the work; the salary was increased in June, 1865; it was increased to 5 per cent. on the cost of the work; the change was made on a report of the Committee to the Board of Supervisors; the report was read to the Board of Supervisors; I don't know whether it was published in the official proceedings of the Board; I don't know how much Mr. Tucker has earned under the agreement made with him; the Comptroller audits his claims; the Committee never audit them; they did in one instance, when the Comptroller felt some doubt about the matter; the Comptroller is authorized to pay Mr. Tucker five per cent. on all the bills for the construction of the building passed by the Board of Supervisors; I don't know whether he gets five per cent. on the salary of the architect, Mr. Kellum; I don't know whether Mr. Tucker has agreed to pay to any one a portion of his salary; he was an architect before he was employed on the Court-house; I have known him for seven or eight years; Supervisor Thomas Little drew the original plans for the Court-house; they were drawn in September, 1861; I don't know of any agreement made by Mr. Kellum to pay money to any one in connection with the Court-house; I know of his paying money to Mr. Thomas Little; my impression is that it was ten thousand dollars; I don't know of money being spent in Albany in connection with the Court-house; I remember a communication from Mayor Gunther in relation to the iron contracts; it was referred to the Court-house Committee; it was never acted upon.

Direct Examination Resumed—The compensation paid to Mr. Tucker is only about half that usually paid by private individuals; there will be a period when Mr. Tucker's compensation will be very small; a great deal of time will be consumed in finishing up; Mr. Hunt, one of the Commissioners, desired to have Mr. Kellum employed on the Court-house; the other Commissioners objected; I don't know where the money came from that Mr. Kellum paid to Mr. Little; I know of Superintendents of buildings who are making more than $25,000 per annum out of them.

Mr. George Tugnot deposed—I was employed with others, in 1865, to fix a price on the iron used in the new Harlem Bridge; the price fixed on wrought-iron work done in 1863 and 1864 was 21¼ cents per pound; on plain cast cylinders, 10 cents per pound; on some ornamental work, 24 cents per pound; on beams, 24 cents.

Mr. Cram said he would rest his case, and begged to ask, as was not unusual, what propositions the prosecution claimed to have made out, in order that they might be discussed.

Mr. Ely said he did not know that they should have any points to discuss. He should leave the matter in the hands of the Committee, who would, he knew, make a report entirely exonerating the contractors and the Committee from all blame in the matter.

Mr. Cram, after expressing some astonishment at the answer, asked for an adjournment until Monday next, when he would sum up.

Mr. Ely said they should have nothing further to say in the matter.

The Committee then adjourned.

BOARD OF COUNCILMEN.

The Tax Levy—The Orphan's Home—Mr. Boole's Expenses—A Veto From the Mayor—A New Ferry.

This Board met at 2 P. M. on Monday, President Green in the chair.

The Tax Levy, as amended by the Board of Aldermen, was taken up. All the amendments were agreed to with the exception of the item for Belgian pavement—$200,000—which was reduced to the original sum—$100,000.

A resolution of Mr. Keenan was adopted, requesting the Clerk of the Board to transmit a copy of the Levy, as adopted by the Board, to the Legislature.

A report adverse to granting to the Trustees of the Patriot Orphan Home, a lease of a plot of ground for ninety-nine years at a nominal rent, was presented and adopted.

A resolution directing the Comptroller to sell at public auction the right to run a ferry from the foot of Spring-street, North River, to Hoboken, was adopted.

The following communication was received from the Mayor, and laid over:

Mayor's Office, New-York, March 19, 1866.

To the Honorable, the Board of Councilmen:

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, the resolution adopted by your honorable body Feb. 8, 1866, and concurred in by the Board of Aldermen, March 5, 1866, directing the Street Commissioner to advertise for proposals to rebuild Piers Nos. 58 and 59, East River.

My reasons are, that these piers were leased about a year ago, for a term of years at a rental of $700 per annum for each, the City agreeing to put them in repair, and the lessee thereafter to keep them in repair.

I understand the City is now under obligation to make the repairs as agreed upon by the terms of the lease, and a resolution directing the Street Commissioner to advertise for proposals to make such repairs would be proper.

But the City is called upon to repair, not to rebuild, and there would be no propriety in incurring the expense of rebuilding so long as the piers are under lease at the small rental of $700.

I respectfully suggest, therefore, a reconsideration and a modification of the resolution to meet these views.

JOHN T. HOFFMAN, Mayor.

The resolution from the other Board, directing the Comptroller to pay the expenses incurred by Ex-City Inspector Boole ($9,500,) in the investigations before the Governor and Senate Committee was concurred in.

The Board then adjourned to Thursday next.

Paving the City Hall Park.

The Aldermanic Committee having under consideration the proposition to pave the entire area of the City Hall Park and remove the iron railings, met yesterday, Mr. W. L. Ely presiding.

Only two persons were present beside the Committee.

Mr. B. L. Solomon said he owned property in the vicinity of the Park. He thought it would destroy the appearance of the Park to throw it open. It might be kept in good order with ease. There was no reason why it might not rival any private garden. It would greatly detract from the appearance of the lower part of the City to remove the Park. There would be no objections to widening the sidewalks. This might be done by leaving the railings as they are and flagging the ground inside, of them. If the Park was once thrown open, many years would not elapse before it would become a grand depot for railroad companies. In Paris, he said, every small plot of ground at the intersection of the streets was railed off and planted with shrubs, adding greatly to the beauty of the city. He would be quite willing to contribute his quota toward preserving and beautifying the Park, although his taxes were enormous already. Only that morning he found that on two buildings of his fronting the Park, the assessments had been increased $80,000 over those of last year.

Mr. J. O. Fowler said he would regret very much to see the City Hall Park destroyed. He owned considerable property in the City, on which he paid taxes to the amount of $7,000 or $6,000 per annum. As to the sidewalks, he thought it would be desirable to widen them by setting the railing back ten or twelve feet.

Mr. Solomon said the objection to setting the railing back was that it would contract the area of the Park.

Mr. Ely said as there were so few persons present, the Committee would adjourn to Tuesday next, at 2:30 o'clock, P. M.

MOZART IN COUNCIL.

Mass Meeting at Clinton Hall—Speeches by Fernando Wood and Others.

Last evening a mass meeting of delegates from the various Mozart organizations in this City was held in Clinton Hall. Admission was by card; nevertheless every seat in the hall was filled. Mr. William B. Lee took the chair, and Mr. Daly read a preamble and resolutions to the effect that the organization was in favor of an immediate interference of our Government in behalf of American citizens under arrest in Ireland; and also in favor of a radical reform in the administration of our municipal affairs, &c.

After the reading of the resolutions Mr. Fernando Wood addressed the meeting.

Mr. Wood said that the Mozart General Committee was composed of two hundred and fifty members, each representing an election district, and that the ward organizations were made up of five delegates for each election district, thus making about 1,200 representative Democrats in this City who are closely connected with the Mozart General Committee. Representatives of the various organizations of the Mozart Demo cracy had met for consultation merely, and not for oratory or for any definite action. Mr. Wood's hearers had often heard the question asked, "Why two Democratic parties in New-York?" If they would go back with him a few years they would have the answer. In 1856 he had the honor of being elected by the united Democracy Mayor of New-York by the largest majority ever given any Mayor. His success engendered jealousies, not only in his own party but in the Republican Party also, and this jealousy found vent in the Legislature, where Republicans, aided by Democrats in New-York, amended the City Charter, and thus cut his term short by one year. From the election of Mr. Tieman, through the aid of the leading men of Tammany Hall, there had been a serious division in the Democratic Party. A large portion of the bone and sinew of the Democratic Party of New-York had determined to purge the party. In 1858 the present Sheriff of the City acted with the Mozart Party, but at his suggestion no ticket was put into the field. In 1859 the Mozart Party went into the field and elected a Mayor. In 1860 Mozart cast a heavier vote than Tammany, and in 1861, said Mr. Wood, we elected our Register. In 1862 we effected a union, which, in my opinion, was injurious to us. In 1864 we again presented our candidates and one was elected, and if the votes had been properly counted the other also would have taken office. We have now been an organization seven years, and ours is the first party that has been able to break the power of Tammany Hall. It now depends upon you to say whether you will go on in your triumphant career. The nation, having passed the most remarkable epoch in its history, is about to enter upon a career of greatness which no nation ever saw. We are all now American citizens. The war being over, there being no dissension, why should there be any opposition to the free admission of every State of the Union to its full rights? Why this struggle to continue the war after the war has ceased? There is here a work for the people—I do not say for the Democratic Party, for I belong to no party—I belong to my country. Let us determine to maintain Freedom here, and carry Freedom into Ireland and elsewhere. If European imperialism can bring its institutions here, why cannot we take republicanism there? Why continue this agitation about an inferior race, whom God designed to be inferior? Let us pay our national debt, and expel imperialism from the North American Continent. Although I am not in favor of involving my country in a foreign war—for I believe that we have had war enough—I am yet in favor of demanding the release of American citizens now incarcerated in British dungeons. These men are not returned Irishmen, but natives of this City of New-York, imprisoned because they are suspected of Fenianism. The leading offices of New-York are filled by men whom you elevated to power? Now that you have come to your hour of perilous struggle, they do not aid you. They will come for you on the eve of the election. Let us, gentlemen, stand by Mozart, be independent in action, and have a candidate for every office in the City, and let our motto be "Persistence until we succeed." Let us support the Administration so long as the Administration shall be true to the Constitution as it was made by our glorious ancestors. Hitherto we have been a local party, but henceforth I propose that our movement shall embrace the entire State, and I assure you that there is afoot a movement which will make ours the party of the nation. I have no personal aspirations, for I have nearly reached the close of my political career, I only want to repay the people of New-York for the generous and almost unparalleled support which they have given me; I desire also to aid the Irishmen who aided me; they have my sympathy in their hour of trial; I shall throw the weight of my influence in favor of republicanism in Ireland. As Irishmen have stood by me ever since they made me their standard-bearer against Know-Nothingism, so help me God I will now and ever forward stand by them. Whether the Fenian cause shall be successful or not, I am with it, beause I know that it is right. I dare not allow myself to ask the question whether the movement can be brought to a successful issue. But whether successful or not, I counsel you to continue to agitate; and although your flag may not float over Dublin Castle, you will yet not have labored in vain; for, believe me, within a twelvemonth the British Parliament will make concessions.

After three cheers had been given for Fernando Wood, Mr. Daly addressed the meeting, and said that the man who introduced the Eight-hour Bill at Albany was either an honest fool or an intelligent knave.

The Chair then read a letter from Mr. Gideon J. Tucker, apologizing for not attending the meeting, and saying that he expected to vote for the bill limiting the hours of labor to eight.

Mr. Mitchell, whom the Chair introduced as one of the young Democracy, said that any remarks from him would ill befit the solemnity of the occasion, and that, beside, he had a severe cold. Here the audience dispersed.

CHESS.

The Great Match Between Philadelphia and New-York.

The exciting contest between Mr. Reichhelm, the Philadelphia Chess champion, and Capt. Mackenzie, winner in the late Tournament of New-York amateurs, has been brought to a sudden termination by the resignation of the former player. According to the terms of the match the winning of seven games became necessary to constitute a victory on either side; and so far as the play progressed, six games only had been played, of which number Capt. Mackenzie had won five, the one remaining having been drawn. A defeat so signal is certainly somewhat unusual among players deemed at all well matched; but the effects of that to which Mr. Reichhelm has now so courteously succumbed, will be greatly diminished from the consideration of the far greater opportunities for good practice which his able antagonist has enjoyed than could have fallen to his lot of late years in Philadelphia; and we doubt not that the fulsome and absurd adulation from which Mr. Reichhelm has suffered at the hands of certain ill-advised admirers having access, strangely enough, to the columns of a portion of the press have been as annoying to him as they have been offensive to good taste generally, and the feelings of true chess players in particular.

That below printed is the sixth and last game occurring in this match, and, with the exception of Game I, given in the Times of last Saturday, will be found the best contested and most interesting of the series.

12—Q to K R 5.	12—Castles.

(A better move, apparently, than that adopted in the case of Game II., wherein Capt. Mackenzie played 12—Kt to K Kt 3, which would seem to give his opponent an opportunity of sacrificing his K Kt for K B P, and subsequently recovering the piece with some advantage.)

After this exchange of Rooks, Black's chance of drawing the game appears to be quite hopeless. It was continued, however, until the sixtieth move, when Mr. Reichhelm resigned.

Progress of Education Among the Freedmen of South Carolina—Measures for the Establishment of Common Schools for White and Black.

The following extract from a letter written by Rev. F. L. Cardozo, teacher and preacher under the auspices of the American Missionary Association, in and about Charleston, S. C., is a pleasing indication of the progress of loyal sentiments, and friendship for the colored people on the part of the citizens of that State:

"We had two visits this week; one from George A. Trenholm, Ex-Secretary of Treasury of the late Confederacy; Rev. A. T. P. and two ladies, the other from Revs. Messrs. G. and P. These three ministers are prominent and influential Episcopalian clergymen here. Mr. Trenholm everybody knows. They said they came because they felt an interest in the education of the colored people, and because they have been appointed a Committee by the Episcopal Convention of South Carolina, to establish such schools all over the State, in accordance with the offer of the Episcopal Convention, which met in Philadelphia last Fall. They want to begin by establishing one in Charleston. They expressed themselves very much pleased both with our methods of teaching and the efficiency and behavior of the scholars. They certainly seemed much surprised. These were the first white natives that ever came into our school. We have had visitors almost every day, but always Northerners, until this week. I was requested by a very prominent lawyer and influential citizen of Charleston to come to his office, and confer with him on the subject of schools. I did so, and was surprised to find the greatest liberality expressed. He told me he was intimate with Gov. Orr, who was in favor of common schools for the State, for both white and colored. I think such things are the first movings of the waters, in the formation of public opinion, in favor of educating the colored people, and giving them their rights."

Rev. Mr. Cardozo is himself colored, and a gentleman of scholarly attainments. He studied at the University of Glasgow, Scotland. He is managing the schools in Charleston with great success.

LAW REPORTS.

The City Assembly Rooms Property—The Rights of Lessors and Lessees Where Buildings are Burned—An Important Opinion of the Supreme Court.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM—MARCH 20.

Witty vs. Matthews.—This was a motion made by plaintiff for an injunction to restrain defendant from taking down the walls of the buildings known as the City Assembly Rooms, in which a fire occurred about a month since. The facts of the case not already published in the Times are fully stated in the following opinion given by Justice James yesterday:

The defendant is the owner of premises numbered 442, 444, 446, 448, 448½ and 450 Broadway, extending through to No. 16 Crosby-street. Plaintiff had a lease for a term of three years, from May 1, 1865, of the first floor and basements of 444, 448, 448½ and 450 Broadway, and the third and fourth floors of No. 16 Crosby-street.

The lease contained this clause: "In case the premises hereby leased shall be partially damaged by fire, but not rendered wholly untenantable, the same shall be repaired with all proper speed at the expense of the lessors, but in case the damage shall be so extensive as to render the premises untenantable, the rent shall be proportionedly paid up to the time of such destruction, and shall from thenceforth cease until such time as the same shall have been put in good repair; but in case of the total destruction of the building by fire or otherwise, so as to render it necessary to rebuild the same, and upon the payment of the proportional rent up to the time of such destruction, then and from thenceforth this lease shall cease, and come to an end; otherwise it shall remain in full force at the option of the lessors."

A fire occurred on said premises on the 15th of last month, which destroyed most of the roofs over said premises, and seriously injured the ceilings and partitions; and on the date of this application the premises are all vacated. Workmen are engaged in removing the interior, ceilings, walls and partitions, preparatory to demolishing the outside walls with a view to a new structure.

The plaintiff claims that there was not a total destruction of the premises covered by his leases, or such total destruction thereof as to render it necessary to rebuild the same, and hence the defendant has not, as against him, the right to demolish the walls of said building; and this action is brought to obtain an injunction order restraining such destruction. Upon an order to show cause, the defendant appears and denies the equity of plaintiff's claim, endeavors to show there was such a total destruction of the premises, as a whole, as to render it necessary to rebuild; also, that he has entered into contracts to rebuild, whereby he would be liable to damages if restrained from so doing. That to repair the premises leased to plaintiff, if it could be done, would involve a large expense, which would be valueless at the end of plaintiff's term, and besides, he would, during said term, lose the use of the other portion of said premises.

Some very important legal questions are involved in this case, such as ought not to be determined on a motion; and in the disposition of it I shall avoid, as far as possible, deciding any questions of fact or law not material to a decision of this motion, which would tend to embarrass either party on the trial of this action.

Injunction orders are not granted in every case, even when the plaintiff brings himself within the statute authorizing an allowance. They should always be issued with caution. In all cases regard should be had to the nature and extent of the injury which the plaintiff would suffer if the order was withheld, and also to the consequences to the defendant should the order be granted. (See 19 Barb., p. 371; 16 How., p. 253.) So an injunction order has no retroactive effect, and should be allowed or withheld upon the facts as they exist at the time of the application. (12 Abbott's, p. 171.)

In this view, I deem it proper to withhold the injunction order in this case, even were it conceded that the plaintiff had good cause of action for damages for a breach of the covenants of his lease; because all the injuries that can possibly arise to plaintiff, can be computed and compensated in damages; while such would not be the defendant's case, were he now restrained from proceeding with his rebuilding.

For these reasons the motion for an injunction is denied.

Mr. F. Byrne for plaintiff; E. Delafield Smith and Ex-Judge Pierrepont for defendant.

The Columbian Marine Insurance Company—Contest as to the Receivership—Conclusion of the Argument—Decision Reserved.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS—MARCH 20.

Before Justice Barnard.

The argument in the matter of the receivership of the Columbian Insurance Company, was concluded yesterday. Mr. Larocque, for the motion, argued at considerable length; first, that the counter petition was not sworn to; and that many of the amounts set out in the petition were filled up in pencil, and hence little or no consideration should be given to it. Counsel said that one of the reasons for wishing to have Mr. Joseph Morrison removed from the receivership was the fact that while they were issuing new stock of the Company at par, they were buying it in, as appeared, at from twenty to forty per cent. premium, and this too with the funds of the Company. By this operation the directors and other officers of the Company became personally liable. It was necessary that the receiver should be independent in order to enforce this personal liability. As to Mr. Leffingwell, although there were no personal objections to him, he was not in an independent position.

Then as to the expense. The expense was limited by law to the same amount as that paid to executors and administrators, hence there could be no increase in the expense. They are perfectly willing that Mr. Leffingwell should continue receiver, but not sole receiver; detached from the influence of the directors, there were few they would prefer to him.

Mr. Wirt's name had been suggested; he had to say on his behalf that Mr. Wirt would infinitely prefer not to be appointed, but would assume the duties of receiver if they were imposed on him.

Mr. Field, in opposition to the motion, said he had presented the papers to Judge Sutherland, and Judge Sutherland, without one word of suggestion from him, had summoned Mr. Curtis, and on Mr. Curtis' assent, had named him receiver. Mr. Curtis was only slightly known to counsel, but he had desired his continuance in the office in order that the receiver should be the nominee of no party; that, on Mr. Curtis' change of opinion, he had presented a petition from all the directors, except Mr. Harbeck, for Mr. Morrison's appointment.

Mr. Whitney, on behalf of the Boston creditors, stated that originally they believed that a receivership, which would include the chief officer of the Company, and one under whose management the business of the Company had so rapidly run down, must be, and would be bad for all concerned. That in consequence of this belief a committee had been appointed in Boston; that committee came on to New-York. They found that Morrison had resigned, and upon an examination of the affairs they had reported in favor of retaining Mr. Leffingwell in the discharge the duties of the receivership. Hence the original petition had been withdrawn and another petition had been presented, praying for his continuance in office.

Several counsel replied to this and finally the Court said he would take the papers and render a decision as soon as the examination of the law and the facts involved would admit.

Important Decision as to Property of Married Women.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM—MARCH 20.

Before Justice Ingraham.

Bogert vs. Joerg and Wife, Hock and Wife.—This was an action brought by Bogert, a judgment creditor of Joerg, to set aside a conveyance made by him to his son-in-law, Hock, and by the latter conveyed to Mrs. Joerg, of a house in Twenty-ninth-street, near Tenth-avenue. It appears that Joerg had been for years a baker in Twenty-ninth-street, near Tenth-avenue; as such had run up an indebtedness with plaintiff on a running account, for balance of which in October, 1865, the latter recovered a judgment against Joerg for over $1,800; in April, 1863, Joerg owing his son-in-law Hock $150 for moneys previously loaned, entered into an arrangement with him to convey to him the property in question, subject to a prior mortgage of $4,000, in consideration that Hock would pay him $850 more, and, as his security, hold the deed of the property. Under this agreement Hock took a conveyance of the property, but did not record it, and in 1863, 1864 and 1865 he let Joerg have the $850. Hock was a captain in the army, and went to the war; while away he gave his mother-in-law full authority to manage the property for him in his absence, which she did, and her husband gave a five-year lease of it to other tenants, with the sanction of Hock. The judgment creditor, by his counsel, W. W. Niles, Esq., relied upon the foregoing facts, and also upon various circumstances which he claimed were suspicious, to set aside the conveyance as fraudulent and void, viz.: The parties were near relatives; the wife managed the business, and the rents and income of the house went into one common fund, out of which they were all supported, it appeared further that on Hock's return from the army he conveyed the premises to Mrs. Joerg for $1,000, subject to the mortgage for $4,000, and received from his mother-in-law $400 in cash and her promissory note for $400, and he forgave her the other $200. Dennis McMahon, Esq., of counsel for the defendant, stated that his clients were willing that a decree should be entered for the sale of the property, and after paying off the first mortgage $4,000, the balance of the proceeds of sale should be applied to paying the $1,000 advanced by Hock to Joerg on taking the deed of the property and the balance left to be applied on the plaintiff's judgment.

This Mr. Niles, of counsel for plaintiff, refused to agree to, and insisted that nothing should be allowed the defendants out of the proceeds of sale, but that they should pay costs. Mr. McMahon cited a number of law authorities to establish that the mere fact that one near relative conveyed to another did not make the conveyance necessarily fraudulent, that such fraud must not only be averred but expressly proven. He claimed that the $400, which Mrs. Joerg paid to Hock on account of the $1,000, when she acquired the deed from him, was the separate property of Mrs. Joerg, acquired by her from her parents in Germany.

The learned Judge said that he did not consider that the Court were necessarily to infer fraud from the fact that one near relative conveyed property to another. Such a conclusion might under many circumstances be a very cruel adjudication. The plaintiff's case depended on his proving such fraud in fact in the conveyance in question, independent of the inference of fraud from the execution of it. In his opinion the transaction was not fraudulent, and he should have dismissed the plaintiff's case if the defendants had not offered in pleadings, and also on the trial, to treat the deed to Hock as security for the $1,000, which would admit that the plaintiff was entitled to the proceeds of sale of the property, after deducting out the $4,000, prior mortgage, and also the $1,000 paid by Hock to Joerg when the deed was taken as security for the sum. Accordingly he should decide as offered by Mr. McMahon, that the property be sold. The first mortgage be paid off, and out of the proceeds of sale the defendants were to be paid their $1,000, and the balance, if any, should be handed over to the plaintiff to be applied in payment of his judgment and costs, but gave no costs to the plaintiff to be paid by the defendants. The plaintiff thought the house worth $6,000; the defendant thought it worth about $5,000. So ordered and decreed.

W. W. Niles and A. O. Salter for plaintiff. D. McMahon for defendants.

The Meteor Case.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—SOUTHERN DISTRICT—MARCH 20.

The admiralty calendar having been set down for this morning, to be called before Judge Benedict, after the return of process was had, the Judge began to call the day calendar.

Mr. Evarts, who was present in the Meteor case, asked the Judge to call on that case, which he understood was set down for to-day, with a preference.

Judge Benedict said that that was a United States case, and those cases Judge Betts had stated that he would dispose of himself; that he would call the day calendar, and when the District-Attorney came in, some arrangement could be made about it.

The day calendar was then called, and the District-Attorney having come in, Mr. Evarts again urged that the case should be taken up; but, after some conversation with the District-Attorney, it was announced that the case would be brought on before Judge Betts on the 22d inst.

Court of Special Sessions.

Before Justices Kelly and Dowling.

ASSAULT.

Dennis Daley and John Gilmore were walking along the street slightly intoxicated. Lawrence J. Callahan was reparing a box on the sidewalk, and Daley knocked him out of the way. Callahan threw down his hammer and was approaching to resent the affront when Gilmore lifted the hammer and hit him on the head. Both were convicted and sent to the Penitentiary for six months.

A QUESTION OF LAW.

John Regan, a hand employed on the steamship Santiago de Cuba, was charged with stealing a quantity of sugar. When the Captain of the ship, Jeremiah W. Smith, was put upon the stand, he knew nothing about the larceny further than that the defendant had confessed that he had stolen sugar from the ship. He did not know that any sugar had been stolen; in fact he could not tell that anybody had stolen sugar, as there were stores on the ship for six hundred or a thousand people. He did not know, and nobody else knew, that anything had been stolen. The defendant was acquitted on the ground that it was not proven that larceny had been committed.

A MISTAKE.

John Ross, a boarder with Ann McMillan, was charged with the larceny of a watch. Complainant said it was taken out of her husband's vest pocket, but she would not swear to it. It appeared from what counsel for the defendant said, that Mr. and Mrs. Ross had a quarrel. Mr. Ross got the watch from a repentant thief, who gave it to him to return to Mrs. McMillan. He failed to do that soon enough and Mrs. Ross, who feared her husband was about to abandon her, had him arrested for larceny. As complainant could not say that her husband might not have loaned the watch, defendant, of course, had to be acquitted.

AN INDEPENDENT WATCHMAN SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

James Toole was employed to watch a cargo of iron at Pier No. 45, East River, and while in the performance of his duty, John Sutton, the accused, who claimed to be an independent watchman, came on the dock armed with a club. Complainant, who is a very old man, asked defendant if he was a watchman. The reply was: "It is none of your business." Complainant said: "I've got charge of iron here on this dock, and you might give me a civil answer." The answer received was a terrible blow on the head from a club. Several other blows were given. After beating the private watchman, the independent watchman took out his pistol and fired three times. This occurred at dusk. The only excuse he offered was that he didn't understand English, and that he fired the pistol to attract the attention of the police. This was after he had beaten the private watchman. The accused was found guilty, fined $50, and sent to the Penitentiary for two months.

A DEPUTY SHERIFF SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

Peter Moore, employed as Deputy Sheriff at a saloon corner of Broadway and Twenty-second-street, was charged with committing a violent assault on Arthur J. D. Delany, a lawyer. Complainant said he wen into this lager-beer and billiard saloon on Saturday night, and was sitting at the table playing a social game of dominoes; the waiter came and said, "I want this table;" "You do?" I replied; I rose up, and there was nobody there that wanted the table. I said: "What do you want?" He put up his hands and I put my hand on his breast and said, "don't you strike." While I said this I was struck on the shoulder, and I turned round and he, prisoner, had a club. I said "a big man like you, should not use a club." I had hardly said that when I received a blow on the forehead from a club that knocked me senseless on the floor. Two other witnesses corroborated this statement of the lawyer. There were no witnesses for the defence. All the accused said in mitigation of punishment was that being a Deputy Sheriff, and detailed at this place, fearing violence might be used, he used his club. Judge Dowling very properly remarked that citizen as well as officer should be protected. Last week this Court sent a man to the Penitentiary for three months and fined him $50 for making a violent assault on a Deputy Sheriff in the Louvre. Now, in the same house, this week, a Deputy Sheriff is found making an unwarrantable assault on a citizen. The verdict was guilty, and the punishment was Penitentiary three months, with a fine of $50.

FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS,
AND DEALERS IN
United States and other Desirable Securities,
NO. 5 NASSAU-ST., NEW-YORK,
OFFER FOR SALE THE
New United States 30-year 6 per cent. Bonds,
ISSUED TO AID THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE GREAT CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD.

They have THIRTY YEARS to run, and bear Interest at the rate of SIX PER CENT. PER ANNUM in lawful money.

The interest is payable SEMI-ANNUALLY in January and July.

They are an ABSOLUTE and UNCONDITIONAL OBLIGATION of the UNITED STATES, and are EXEMPT FROM STATE AND MUNICIPAL TAXATION, LIKE ALL OTHER GOVERNMENT BONDS.

They are RECEIVED by the BANK DEPARTMENT as SECURITY FOR THE CIRCULATION of NATIONAL BANKS, and circulation is issued upon them at the rate of Eighty Per Cent. of their par value.

The length of time they have to run renders them VERY DESIRABLE FOR

BANKING PURPOSES, OR FOR INVESTMENT,

As they CANNOT BE CALLED IN BY THE GOVERNMENT, and the RATE OF INTEREST CANNOT BE REDUCED FOR THIRTY YEARS. As gold declines, their relative value to gold-bearing bonds, which are liable to be paid off so much earlier, WILL PROPORTIONATELY INCREASE, and after 1881 they will probably be the

Only 6 per Cent. Bond of the U. S. in Existence, and they can now be bought at a rate at which they will pay a BETTER RATE OF INTEREST on the amount invested IN THE MEANTIME THAN ANY OF THE GOLD-BEARING BONDS AT PRESENT PRICES, unless gold shall average from 20 to 30 per cent. premium for the next ten to fifteen years. So high an average premium on gold for this length of time IS BEYOND ALL REASONABLE EXPECTATION, AND LARGELY IN EXCESS of the MOST INTELLIGENT FINANCIAL ESTIMATES.

They are issued only in limited amounts, as the work on the Pacific Railroad progresses. There is but a small amount now in the market, and the demand is daily increasing.

ALSO, FOR SALE, THE
Central Pacific R. R. 7 per cent. State Aid Bonds,

Principal and interest payable IN GOLD, interest guaranteed and paid by the STATE OF CALIFORNIA. These bonds are secured by a mortgage on 160 miles of road from Sacramento to the California State Line, forming a part of the GREAT PACIFIC RAILROAD ROUTE adopted and aided by the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT. They are further secured by a

SINKING FUND OF $50,000 PER ANNUM IN GOLD, reserved from the earnings of the road, and PLEDGED FOR THEIR REDEMPTION.

About sixty miles of the road are already completed, on which the EARNINGS ARE VERY LARGE, having been in the month of October, 1865, on fifty-three miles of road then running, upward the road having as yet penetrated to no very important points.

OF $65,000 IN GOLD,

With thirty miles additional completed, which will probably be ready for working by the middle of June next, the earnings are expected to be not less than

$200,000 PER MONTH IN GOLD,

by careful estimates based upon the present amount of traffic over the same region without railroad facilities. This part of the Great Pacific Route is destined to be one of

THE MOST PROFITABLE LINES OF RAILROAD IN THE WORLD.

These Bonds are a FIRST-CLASS SECURITY in every respect, and a limited amount will be offered upon terms which render them a Very Attractive and Desirable Investment.

Inquiries for further particulars will receive prompt attention.

WE ALSO KEEP ON HAND AND BUY AND SELL AT MARKET RATES ALL CLASSES OF

UNITED STATES SECURITIES,

LOCKWOOD'S

COLLAR.

MOULDED TO FIT THE NECK AND WITH A SPACE FOR THE CRAVAT.

The Lockwood Manufacturing Company announce to the trade that they have just brought out a new moulded collar, having more space for the cravat, and in all respects better fitting and better shaped than any heretofore produced, (with the exception of "Lockwood's Cloth Lined Collars.")

The paper is solid and will not split, and is consequently stronger and more durable than any heretofore made, being manufactured by the parties who, for many years past, have made the bond, deed and bank-note paper for the United States Treasury Department. In addition to this the collars themselves are made by the same machinery as our best cloth lined goods, and are guaranteed the best all paper collars made.

Each collar is branded with an "arrow," which has been registered in the United States Circuit Court as our trade mark for this quality of goods.

A new line of discounts offered to jobbers.
